JFK Sees New Post For Bowles Definite Job Is Not Spelled Out After Two Confer

WASHINGTON (AP) — President-elect John F. Kennedy indicated after a conference with Chester Bowles today that the former ambassador and Connecticut governor will be offered a place in his administration.

Kennedy was not definite as to what post he might have in mind for the man who was his chief campaign foreign policy adviser.

No Talk of Future
Bowles has been among those mentioned as possible choices for secretary of state in the new Cabinet.

But Kennedy, standing in the doorway of his Georgetown home with Bowles, told questioners their 65-minute breakfast talk did not involve the future of Bowles, now a retiring member of the House of Representatives.

"We didn't discuss that," Kennedy told newsmen, but added: "We will be discussing it."

Kennedy passed up a question as to what place that might be. Kennedy said the conference this morning concerned the world situation generally.

"Mr. Bowles has talked to a good many representatives of other governments, both here and in New York, and brought me up to date," he said.

No Bowles Comment
He said Bowles had talked with representatives of as many as 15 governments, but declined to say which ones.

Bowles himself declined to elaborate on what Kennedy had to say. He said he was going to his office to catch up on correspondence.

The breakfast session with Bowles is one of a series of conferences arranged for Kennedy—including a White House meeting next week with President Eisenhower.

Along with a number of others, Bowles has been mentioned as a possible Kennedy choice for secretary of state. But Kennedy said in advance that today's meeting would have no bearing on whether Bowles will have a position in the new administration.

Aide During Campaign
The president-elect added that he wasn't ruling out the possibility of a job for Bowles, who served as a foreign policy adviser to Kennedy during the campaign.

Kennedy said he had invited Bowles to his Georgetown home for a report on talks Bowles has been having—at the president-elect's request—with U.S. ambassadors stationed in various world areas.

IBM Facilities
Given Names to Note Operations

The IBM Federal Systems Division has renamed its major facilities, it was announced today.

The Kingston location of IBM has been named The IBM Federal Systems Division Command Center.

The Kingston location of IBM has been named The IBM Federal Systems Division Command Center, and two facilities located at Bethesda, Md., have been designated as The IBM Federal Systems Division Communication Center and The IBM Federal Systems Division Systems Center.

In making the announcement, Kingston's general manager, Richard J. Whalen, stated that the facilities of the Federal Systems Division had been named to describe the capabilities that the division can offer to the government and the military.

"IBM has a fine tradition of service to the federal government," he said, "but the needs of the government are changing. The military is asking for technologies infinitely more complicated than those of the past."

There is a compelling need for progress in the face of tremendous world competition. Science today is extending the reach of computers around the world and into space.

Computers and communication devices are being integrated to form vast information system networks. It will be the mission of the IBM Federal Systems Division Command Center to develop and manufacture ground-based computer systems which will be used to process large volumes of information. Of the total information system requirements, none is more important than the ground-based computer systems which are the nerve centers of command and control systems.

The headquarters of IBM Federal Systems Division is located in Rockville, Md.

Rumored for State, Defense Posts in Kennedy's Cabinet

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — President-elect Kennedy has selected Sen. James W. Fulbright, D-Ark., as his secretary of state, the Albany Times-Union said in a copyrighted story today.

The newspaper also said Kennedy had picked Eugene R. Black, 62, president of the World Bank, as secretary of the treasury, and John J. McCloy, 65, chairman of the Chase Manhattan Bank, as secretary of defense. McCloy formerly was U.S. high commissioner in Germany.

The Times-Union said it was not known whether the three men had accepted the Cabinet posts.

The president-elect "presently plans" to name his 34-year-old brother, Robert, as attorney general, the newspaper continued. Robert Kennedy managed the presidential campaign of the Democratic victor.

The Hearst newspaper said it had learned Kennedy's choices from "an authoritative source whose information 'evidently has been correct'."

The paper quoted the source as saying that Gov. Abraham A.

J. WILLIAM FULBRIGHT

JOHN JAY MCCLOY

Ribicoff of Connecticut had declined an offer to serve as secretary of health, education and welfare.

Fulbright, 55, is chairman of the influential Senate Foreign Relations Committee. He is a former

Chamber, Mayor For Detour Talk

Kurdt Writes State Asking Meeting On Old Bridge Use as Viaduct Razed

The Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce today released the contents of a letter written to J. Burch McMorran, State Superintendent of Public Works, relating to the need for maintaining traffic in the vicinity of the Washington Avenue viaduct during the period of demolition. It was signed by Albert Kurdt, manager of the Chamber.

The letter supports Mayor Edwin F. Radel's suggestion that a committee of local interested citizens be set up to confer with Mr. McMorran in Albany to discuss the problems and situations involved.

The Chamber of Commerce also called attention to the fact that some local opposition has been voiced to the construction of a short detour in the viaduct area because it would necessitate a new temporary bridge over the Esopus Creek at great additional cost. This was mentioned today because no one has ever suggested such a procedure. Those directly interested believe that the present bridge could be used until the new bridge is completed at no, or very little, additional cost.

Text of Letter
Text of the letter mailed to Mr. McMorran and released today is as follows: "We were pleased to hear that plans for the removal of the Washington Avenue viaduct and the construction of a new bridge over the Esopus Creek at the northern end of the viaduct are being progressed."

"However, we were alarmed to read in your recent letter to Mayor Edwin F. Radel that it will be impossible to maintain a traffic detour in the vicinity during the construction period. We still feel the same about this situation as outlined by Frederick H. Stang, then President of our Chamber of Commerce in a letter to you dated December 22, 1959."

"For this reason, we support

Midwest Is Hammered By 1st Snow

The season's first full-blown snow storm, sweeping eastward across the Great Plains, hammered wide areas of the Midwest today.

A blanket of snow and ice covered many sections of the eastern Plains and upper Mississippi Valley—up to a foot in some places. The late November storm, erupting after a week or more of fairly mild weather, hit hardest from the Dakotas eastward into western Lower Michigan.

Curtails Traffic
Gale winds whipped the snow into huge drifts in some areas. Traffic was curtailed, with roads blocked in some sections. Visibility was cut to zero in Grand Forks, N.D., by snow driven by winds of 63 m.p.h. Blizzard conditions were reported in sections of the Dakotas and Minnesota.

Power and communication lines were disrupted. Schools were closed in some northern Midwest areas. Gale warnings were posted.

Police Pay Decision Held Up, Officer Can't Return

Decision on a pay boost bid involving final decision on the police department budget was delayed at a special session Monday night of the police board, which also in a split vote, denied requested reinstatement of James Steinhilber who resigned in September after reported accidental shooting of a fellow patrolman.

A decision which would permit "limited cuts" of curb in proposed building of a gas station at Broadway and Franklin Street, was reached at a special Board of Public Works meeting earlier Monday.

To Decide Dec. 6
Consideration of the police department budget, it was reported, drew "considerable discussion" after which "it was decided to give more study to the matter and to meet again on Dec. 6 to decide."

Details of the budget discussion were not disclosed, but there have been indications that department personnel have requested salary increases comparable to those gained by the Poughkeepsie department during a Nov. 8 referendum. The increase also applies to firemen in that city.

Maximum pay in Poughkeepsie goes from $5,250 to $6,300 a year. The latter is to be paid to those who qualify after 15 years of service. The scale is downward for men of lesser experience under a system known as a "career plan."

The referendum favored the increase by 271 votes. It was the third time in 11 years in Poughkeepsie that pay boosts were favored through referendum.

Salary Schedules Here
Top salary here for patrolmen is fixed at a base sum of $5,000 with $60 added for every five years of service.

The local pay boost bid was discussed at a recent meeting when the board indicated it would take the proposal "under advisement." It has been unofficially estimated that the increases sought would affect the general city budget to the extent of $2 on the tax rate.

Mayor's Vote Decides
Officer Steinhilber at the previous meeting had asked for reinstatement and the board reserved decision. Last night a tie vote resulted with two for and two opposed. The vote of Mayor Edwin F. Radel, as board president, was then required and his decision resulted in disapproval of the application.

Officer Steinhilber resigned after the gun he held discharged and seriously wounded Patrolman Thomas Kearney, after they had gone to the Rondout Yacht Club in early September to relax.

Other Children Injured in Rail Crossing Tragedy

LAMONT, Alta. (AP)—A Canadian National Railway train struck a loaded school bus here today and a school official said about half the 32 children aboard were killed.

The crash came in subzero weather at a grade crossing a quarter mile from the railroad station of Lamont, 45 miles north-east of Edmonton, Alberta's capital.

Harry Sharuk, chairman of the Lamont School Board, gave the estimate that half the children died. Others were injured.

The wreckage was carried down the track into the town itself and the victims were strewn along the right-of-way.

Frank Butney, driver of the bus, survived.

M. Woycenko, secretary-treasurer of the school division, said the train — a through freight — struck the bus "smack in the middle."

He said the students were mainly from the Chipman district, 10 miles southeast of Lamont.

They attended grades 10, 11 and 12.

State Confident Cross-Check Will Catch '59 Tax Evaders

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—The state estimates there were about half a million tax delinquents in 1957 and it says it aims to catch them through an elaborate cross-check with 1959 state income-tax returns.

But it may take two years to settle all cases, the State Tax Department said yesterday.

Norman Gallman, deputy tax commissioner, told The Associated Press the department undertook the investigation several weeks ago.

The department is matching 1957 state income-tax returns with the more than 6 million returns filed for 1959 when employers began withholding taxes from each employee's pay.

Previously, each person reported his own income to the state. From initial results, Gallman said the department expected to find one million New Yorkers who failed to pay 1957 taxes but paid tax a last year.

Of this number, one-half will turn out to be delinquents, Gallman estimated.

The department began several

Isolated Roads Given to Town

$45,450 Transferred to Welfare Fund, 1961 Budget Seen Topping This Year's

Construction of the New York State Thruway and the Kingston Arterial Route has caused isolation of certain short sections of the County Road system in the Town of Ulster and the board of supervisors Monday evening transferred these sections from the County system to the Town of Ulster for maintenance and repair or for disposition to adjacent property owners.

Roads so transferred were

County Road No. 41, Leggs Mills Road, west of the Thruway Bridge near the property of Carmine and Michael Sabion, 2400 feet. County Road No. 50, Lucas Avenue Turnpike, southwesterly of Thruway bridge near property of Shapiro, and northwesterly at the property of Dellar, a total length of a quarter of a mile, Sawkill road and New York State Route 28 near Maggiore property, northwesterly a distance of .053 of a mile; old alignment of Sawkill Road, northerly along Sawkill road, a distance of .356 of a mile.

By resolution of Supervisor Jesse McHugh (R) Shawangunk, the sections of highways were transferred to the Town of Ulster Road system.

Welfare Gets Help
Welfare Funds necessary to carry on various departments until the end of the year were needed. Welfare Commissioner Joseph Fitzsimmons reported and the board authorized transfers totaling $45,450 from the surplus in the General Fund to meet the need. Much of this money will be reimbursable from the state. The funds to which transfers were authorized are:

Aid to Disabled $6,500. Aid to Dependent Children $27,250. Home Relief $3,000. Foster Care (Child Welfare) $5,500 and Kingston Infirmary $2,200.

Accident Case Settled
An action arising out of an accident on May 2, 1953 on the Leggs Mills Road in which the car owned by Sidney Z. Castle and operated by Sidney Z. Castle damaged the bridge, was settled on recommendation of County Attorney Arthur A. Davis Jr. An action was commenced by the board of education; Robert Guzewich, program chairman of the P-TA Council; Mrs. Martin Oberkirch, president of the Port Owen P-TA, and Richard J. McCarthy, newscaster of Radio Station WKNY.

Mrs. Thomas Maines, president of the Council, presided. Mrs. Raymond Gilkey introduced the speaker.

DA Mino Finds No Crime On Ellenville School Job

District Attorney Raymond J. Mino has found "no evidence" of a crime in the Ellenville Central School construction program during the years 1950-1953, although records, disclose there may have been extravagance and waste.

Allegations of possible criminal acts were made to Special Assistant Attorney General Bernard Tompkins, who was investigating corruption in official circles in Ulster County in relation to road oil "kickbacks", and his office began an investigation into the Ellenville school construction program.

In May 1960, as the Ulster County probe began to reach termination, Tompkins referred the Ellenville School matter to Ulster County District Attorney Mino for further investigation.

Now after reviewing the evidence and data compiled by Tompkins' office, Mino today announced that he did not find any evidence of the commission of any crime in connection with the Ellenville School construction program.

He stated that at the outset of his investigation, his office was confronted with the legal fact that the five-year statute of limitations had apparently run out for any alleged crime which may have been committed prior to May 1955.

A review of the evidence and date compiled by Tompkins took considerable time because of the nature and extent of the files referred to him.

In addition, his office independently interviewed and interrogated a number of citizens and law enforcement agents from the Ellenville area, who, the files indicated, might have some information of the Ellenville Central School. This review and re-evaluation of the file referred to him, together with the independent interviews and interrogations conducted by the district attorney's office, did not disclose any more or different evidence than had already been produced.

No Evidence of Crime
District Attorney Mino further stated that his investigation indicates that Tompkins, together with his large staff, made a complete, "painstaking and exhaustive investigation" of all of the facts and circumstances surrounding the construction of the Ellenville Central School.

The district attorney concludes that he "agrees with the special assistant attorney general that there is no available evidence of the commission of any crime or crimes during the time of the construction of the Ellenville Central School."

District Attorney Mino, however, stated that "the records do

FEARED KIDNAPPED

Police in Portland, Ore., Nov. 28, searched for Beverly Allen, 19, of Port Townsend, Wash., feared kidnapped by an unknown assailant who fatally stabbed her companion. She's a Washington State University co-ed. (AP Wirephoto)

Search Is Widened For Coed

Fear Kidnaping, Date Was Slain

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—Police widened their search today for a coed feared kidnapped when her boyfriend was killed in a lover's lane.

The girl is Beverly Allen, 19, Port Townsend, Wash., a pretty sophomore from Washington State University.

Disappeared Saturday
She disappeared Saturday night on a date with her boyfriend, Larry Ralph Peyton, 19, a Portland State College student. His body was found Sunday night in the front seat of his car on an isolated lover's lane in the hills northwest of Portland.

Police said there was evidence of a terrific struggle. Young Peyton had been stabbed 23 times and also had received a blow that caused a skull fracture. There was blood outside and inside the car.

Had Dinner Together
Miss Allen, after Thanksgiving dinner with her parents at Port Townsend, had come to Portland to visit the Peytons. Peyton's parents said they all had dinner together Saturday, then their son and Miss Allen left for the evening. The parents reported them missing Sunday.

A U.N. official said Lumumba's escape from the guarded villa obviously was prepared with great care and outside assistance.

Mobutu's chances of tracking Lumumba were regarded as very slim.

Lumumba, accompanied only by a driver and a secretary, crashed his darkened station wagon through a sleepy Congolese army guard outside the Villa Sunday night and disappeared.

His political foes, Mobutu and President Joseph Kasavubu, were not reassured by a statement issued later in his behalf that he would attend his daughter's funeral in Stanleyville and then return to Leopoldville.

Mobutu apparently believes Lumumba is trying to reach Stanleyville, about 750 miles northeast of Leopoldville, by boat. But some reports said Lumumba is fleeing by car.

Mobutu alerted soldiers along the Congo river and in Equator province to the north, through which Lumumba will have to pass if he is using the river.

The United Nations guard around Lumumba's villa in Leopoldville was withdrawn after his flight, making it unlikely that he would return peacefully to the capital.

The Congolese army has sought Lumumba since Mobutu unseated him and ousted Soviet bloc diplomats the colonel said were scheming to take over the Congo.

Bingo Has Netted $14 Million in Two-Year Period

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Bingo has netted its sponsors a profit of more than $14 million since the game became legal in New York State nearly two years ago.

Players won $4,519,345 in prizes but paid sponsoring organizations $62,743,515 between Jan. 1, 1958 and last Sept. 30, the State Lottery Control Commission reported Monday.

This netted sponsors $14,289,648. The game was played on 81,707 occasions by a total of 18,783,670 persons during the period.

The commission said 1,441 organizations were licensed to conduct games as of Sept. 30, an increase of 204 in six months.

Among the most numerous sponsors which the law says must be non-profit group, are Roman Catholic churches and their affiliated organizations, veterans' posts, volunteer fire departments and fraternal organizations.

Large, individual organizations cleared $20,000 or more in the last six months. A commission report showed, for example, that the Church of the Most Precious Blood in Long Island City netted $32,477 between last April 1 and Sept. 30.

Over 600 Attend Back-to-School Program at RVHS

In keeping with the year's theme, Get Acquainted With Your School, the November meeting of the Rondout Valley High School Parent, Teachers and Friends Club featured a back-to-school night program for parents.

More than 600 parents and guests that evening followed a child's program through a typical school day in abbreviated style. Daily programs were picked up in home rooms and seven-minute periods followed in order until the schedule was completed. In each class room teachers explained objectives and accomplishments. In addition there were exhibits, books, displays and special equipment used for specific courses by the pupils.

Upon completion of the program, refreshments were served in the cafeteria by Mrs. Hyman Banks and her refreshment committee, Mrs. DeWitt Hasbrouck, president, presided at a brief business meeting.

The next meeting will be Dec. 20. The program will be a Christmas concert under the direction of the RVHS music department.

20 Units Jump Tracks

ELMIRA, N. Y. (AP) — Seventeen cars and three diesel units of a Pennsylvania Railroad freight train pounded off the tracks on a steep grade near here Monday and rolled 100 feet down an incline. None of the train's six-man crew was injured, the railroad said.

The lead locomotive and the last 20 cars of the 37-car train remained on the tracks.

Wellsville Man Killed

OLEAN, N. Y. (AP) — Bernard Gibbs, 32, of Wellsville, was killed Monday night in a two-car collision on Route 17 near here.

R*PRESCRIPTIONS COST SO LITTLE

You know a plumber, electrician, or any repairman must charge a minimum service charge of from $3 to $6, plus parts.

Yet, most prescriptions cost you about $2 each, and the average charge for all of them is about $3.50. Included in this modest charge is our professional ability, ingredient costs and time for preparation. And, today's wonderful medicines really can help you to cure disease and live a longer life.

YOUR DOCTOR CAN PHONE US when you need a medicine. Pick up your prescription if shopping nearby, or we will deliver promptly without extra charge. A great many people entrust us with their prescriptions. May we compound yours?

1,500 Persons
Work Exhibits

Approximately 1,500 persons on Tuesday passed through the Atoms at Work mobile exhibit on scheduled stops in the city and viewed the exhibit which portrays the story of peacetime uses of atomic energy.

The mobile unit exhibit sponsored jointly by the Kingston Junior Chamber of Commerce and the U. S. Atomic Energy Commission was parked at Wall and John Streets from 9 a. m. until 12 noon yesterday.

The exhibit is in Kingston in conjunction with Atoms for Peace Week proclaimed by Mayor Edwin F. Radcliff. Harold Robbins, exhibit manager, spoke to students at Kingston High School at 2:30 p. m. yesterday explaining the atomic energy program. From 7:30 p. m. to 9:30 p. m. the 35-foot mobile unit was on exhibition for the Adult Education program of Kingston schools at the Vocational building.

The unit was parked at the M.J.M. School today from 9 a. m. until 12 noon for inspection by Junior High School students. The exhibit moved at 12:30 p. m. to Wall and John Streets where it will remain for public visitation until 5 p. m.

Mr. Robbins will address members of School 8 P-TA in the school cafeteria at 7:30 p. m. Marvin I. Millens is chairman of the Jaycees committee in charge of the exhibit. Other members of the committee are Joseph P. Karlafta, Robert A. Mackinnon and John R. Shults Jr.

Area Radio Amateurs Will Meet Thursday

Members of the Ulster County Mike and Key Club at a meeting to be held Thursday at 8 p. m. in the Civil Defense room, City Hall, will hear a talk by Harry Greenberg W2MSQ of the Channel Master Corp.

His subject will be "Antennas for the Radio Amateur, Second Session With Emphasis on VHF (very high frequency)." The speaker is a well known radio amateur in the Ellenville area, and will speak informally to those in attendance.

NEW PASTOR AT ST. PHILOMENA'S—The Rev. James E. McNally, left, new pastor of St. Philomena's Church, Town of Ulster, confers with the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Joseph F. Connolly, former pastor of the parish. Father McNally comes to the local church from St. Rose of Lima Church, New York City. Msgr. Connolly has been appointed chaplain of St. Michael's Home for Children, Staten Island.

Troublesome Times Ahead*Moscow Losing Its Touch
In Imposing Discipline
On Other Commie Parties

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
Associated Press News Analyst

Recent developments make it clear Moscow is becoming less and less able to impose total discipline upon foreign Communist parties.

This does not mean the Kremlin stands to lose the leadership of the world Communist movement in the foreseeable future. But it does mean Moscow is losing some control and is facing troublesome times.

Some Rebellion
The Soviet Communist party is running into disobedience and even rebellion in the ranks of the Communist fifth column in a number of areas of the world, and is encountering resentment among many of its partisans.

One of the important reasons is that the outlook of the Soviet party differs from that of many a Communist in the ranks beyond the Soviet borders.

The Bolshevik seizure of power in Russia took place 43 years ago. Any citizen of the Soviet Union today who is under the age of 60 is likely to have little memory of pre-revolutionary days in Russia.

The revolutionary fire has died away. The Soviet Communist party is made up, in the vast majority, of members of a distinctly privileged class, interested in keeping itself privileged and having singularly conservative views with regard to political and social change inside the U.S.S.R.

Spirit Still Lives

The party now is the core and the directing force of a complex, swiftly developing technocracy, faced with all the contradictions inherent in such a society. The need frequently to compromise between the urge for rapid growth and the structures of an inhibiting, rigid doctrine has a profound effect upon Soviet foreign policy and the Communist program to dominate the world.

The revolutionary spirit still lives, however, among the Communist party of China, which came to power only 10 years ago and which now is struggling through development phases passed by the Soviet Union 25 years ago. The Red Chinese insist upon the letter of party dogma. Indeed, they are forced into it as a factor in insuring their continued rule.

Peiping Impatient

China's Communists also are extremely impatient for the expansion of the revolution abroad by violent means. They scornfully inform the Russians that peace can be insured only through violent struggle and cannot be achieved by "begging" for it from the Western world. If there is to be peace, say the Chinese, then it must be a peace which is imposed upon the United States, a peaceful coexistence which will be forced upon Americans on Communist terms. The notion of peace through negotiations, say the Red Chinese, is strictly an illusion.

Many a Communist in the non-Communist world agrees with Peiping and is chafing at Soviet attitudes. Many a Communist sees himself and his future dreams of power being sacrificed for the aims of Soviet national policy.

Calls Talks Useful*Ike Says Bonn
Won't Be Asked
For Troop Costs

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower says American-West German negotiations will continue on ways to improve the U. S. balance of payments position.

But West Germany will not be asked again to pay $600 million annually for maintaining American troops there.

The President said in a statement Monday that he thought the recent discussions in Bonn between West German leaders and Secretary of the Treasury Robert B. Anderson and Undersecretary of State Douglas Dillon were "most useful."

"As a result of these talks there is a greater acceptance of the United States view that there must be a basic improvement in the United States balance of payments position as an essential part of maintaining the free world's financial system depending as it does upon the dollar as a cornerstone."

Eisenhower's statement obviously took note of published reports that there was a lack of coordination between the Anderson-Dillon mission and Secretary of State Christian A. Herter.

Eisenhower said the instructions had been fully coordinated with Herter as well as with Secretary of Defense Thomas S. Gates Jr. and had been known in advance to the West German government.

Keating Thinks
Ike Could Have Helped VP More

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower "could have done more" to help Vice President Richard M. Nixon in the presidential campaign, Sen. Kenneth B. Keating, R-N.Y., believes.

Nixon might have beaten Democrat John F. Kennedy had Nixon concentrated his campaign in the larger industrial states, Keating said Monday in an interview recorded for a television broadcast in Watertown, N.Y.

Keating added: "I think also that President Eisenhower, being as popular as he is, could have done more."

"I don't want to be critical of him, but I think if he had gotten in this campaign earlier and had been as definite and positive about his preferences as he was in the later days (of the campaign), that might have helped."

"When he came in at such a late date it looked too much like a rescue operation."

Thruway Help
Saves Drivers
About $60,000

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—A total of 11,520 Thruway motorists, whose vehicles ran out of gasoline, had boiling radiators or were otherwise stranded, saved about $60,000 in the first year under an emergency-service plan, the State Thruway Authority says.

Under the plan, stranded motorists are supplied enough gasoline to reach a service area. State Police cars and many Thruway vehicles carry spare fuel and water. The service is free.

The authority said Monday that each service saved a motorist more than $5. Calls for gasoline were answered 10,149 times; for water, 699; and for other types of aid, 672.

New Blue-and-White Vinyl Tiles Inspire Decorators

By POLLY CRAMER

A new vinyl that looks just like those old blue-and-white Dutch tiles can inspire a decorative scheme for almost any room in the house.

Used on the floor of an entrance hall with white walls and provincial furniture, it would add color and design interest. Few women could resist the charm of a kitchen with these blue-and-white tiles on the floor. They could also be used as a stove back splash if the walls are white, cabinets blue and accessories copper.

In a blue-and-white living room, this vinyl was used all around the fireplace for decorative wall panels. Women seeking inspiration for a different-looking bathroom will find the backbone of innumerable schemes in this one product.

Dear Polly: We need your help with the furniture we are buying for our first new home. How far can we go in mixing different periods? Should we use Colonial furniture all through the house? We'd like a brass bed in the guest room. Is brass definitely modern?—Newlywed.

Dear Newlywed: Brass beds are definitely not modern. My grandmother had a brass bed. Did yours? Definitely, you can mix periods and styles in furniture. You can have Colonial in one bedroom and other styles in other rooms. Many can get along well in the same room. Some of the smartest new rooms display accessories.

Dear Polly: I'm an avid reader with a problem of my own. My beautiful divan is covered with forest green that has a fruit pattern in pale blue and pink. I'd like to use indoor shutters at the windows. What colors do you advise for rug, walls, woodwork and shutters? I have a lovely Siamese pink wing chair. Shall I use this?—Mrs. N.H.

Dear Mrs. N. H.: Do use your lovely pink chair. A forest green rug and pale blue walls with white shutters and woodwork would be smart. When you get another chair, choose a plaid or stripes in pink, blue and green. Some blue cushions would be pretty on your sofa.

Dear Polly: I have a problem. For 18 years, I have had tie-back curtains in the living room. Room is traditional. The walls are pink and I'd like green drapes. Can I use drapes with window shades and not have panel curtains? Should I have one wide pair or two pairs of draperies at the double window? I have a gray English floral rug, hunter's green divan, gray chair and green chair. What color to recover the sofa?—M.B.H.

Dear M. B. H.: After 18 years, you definitely need a change of curtains so that shade brackets and wood casing between the windows will be hidden. You need not have panel curtains. I suggest new draperies of a heavy white textured fabric edged with green fringe. The sofa slip cover would tie in your colors if done in floral print with pink flowers, a dash of gray and green leaves on a white ground.

Dear Reader: A heavy volume of mail doesn't permit Mrs. Cramer to answer her letters and post card individually. But she will comment in her column on decorating problems of general interest. She cannot undertake to return floor plans or fabric swatches which are enclosed with letters.

Would Let Mohawk Continue Air Runs

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mohawk Airlines should continue to be permitted to operate between Syracuse, N.Y., and New York City, a Civil Aeronautics Board examiner urged Monday.

Examiner John A. Cannon recommended that Mohawk's authority be renewed for an indefinite period. His findings coincided with those issued tentatively by the board Oct. 11.

The board had said Mohawk had substantially achieved or exceeded results anticipated in an earlier decision allowing the airline to operate non-stop between the two cities for three years.

A QUESTION OF MORALE
President Eisenhower's directive to reduce U.S. spending abroad reflects the intention of stabilizing the dollar and cutting the deficit in our balance of international payments. Behind this may lie a desire to prod our European allies into paying a substantial share of the cost of stationing our armed forces in Europe.

Both of these are valid justifications for the directive, as long as one considers the matter in purely financial terms. Our balance of payments has been out of kilter for some time now. Corrective action is warranted.

A good case can also be made for pressure on our European allies to assume a fair share of the burden of keeping our forces in Europe. They are not fully meeting their military commitments under NATO. In recent years they have prospered, so that they could well afford major contributions to the cost of maintaining U.S. service personnel and their dependents on the continent.

It is the question of morale in our armed forces that prompts misgivings about the President's directive. The order to cut by 280,000 the number of U.S. military dependents abroad will, if carried out, have a serious impact on morale. This appears certain, despite reassuring remarks from Defense Secretary Gates.

Beyond the question of an immediate impact on morale there is the larger question of what a "no family overseas" rule will do to enlistments—and particularly to re-enlistments among capable men who could get civilian jobs. It is questionable whether the cut in dependents will reduce spending enough to outweigh the damage to armed forces morale. The big hope now is that our allies will agree to take on the financial burden mentioned above, and thus make it unnecessary to carry out that part of the directive relating to dependents abroad.

NO TIME TO LOSE

Anyone dedicated to the proposition that the Christmas season should be filled with joy and free of bickering will throw himself without delay into the Christmas card chore. It is still not too late to send off that picture of little Johnny—the one of him by the fireplace—and have it put on a greeting card.

Delay for a week, and it will be a bit late. The longer you wait, the greater the panic and the less the chance of coming up with a card which recipients will wish to place on the mantel.

If you delay until mid-December you will have missed the boat. By then, you'll be in such a state you'll be lucky to find the Christmas card list. And you and your spouse will be forced into after-midnight stamp licking and message writing, along with wrangling born of pressure and fatigue.

Quarrels violate the spirit of brotherly love and rejoicing identified with the season. So get your Christmas cards now, send out a few each day. And if you think this will avert a last minute scramble, you're probably wrong.

DEFLECTIONS FROM CUBA

Fidel Castro and his ruling clique may have caught glimpses of handwriting on the wall the other day when only a few hundred professional and technical men pledged their loyalty in response to an intensive government campaign. The meager showing at a rally in Havana must be coupled with reports that large numbers of doctors, engineers, teachers and the like have fled Cuba in recent months.

If this exodus of key personnel is as substantial as has been indicated—and the small turnout at the Havana rally seems to bear that out—then the Castro regime is clearly in for greater trouble than it has yet faced. The defection of large numbers of highly trained personnel would be a serious

'These Days'

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

"LISTEN YANKEE"

Professor C. Wright Mills is a professor of sociology at Columbia University. He has written a piece of press agency, "Listen Yankee," for Castro's Cuba which is neither sociology nor advantageous press agency. It is so emotionally over-cooked that it becomes tasteless. The learned professor writes:

"My major aim in this book is to present the voice of the Cuban revolutionary, as clearly and as emphatically as I can, and I have taken up this aim because of its absurd absence from the news of Cuba available in the United States today."

This might have a tone of impartiality, of the research scholar objectively seeking after the truth except that Professor Mills happens to be a member of the Castro propaganda organization in the United States which calls itself "Fair Play for Cuba Committee" which has on its list many whose names always appear on such committees. Professor Mills spent two weeks in Cuba in August 1960. One of his conclusions is that:

"I believe another source of trouble is that many North American journalists simply do not know how to understand and to report a revolution. If it is a real revolution — and Cuba's is certainly that — to report it involves much more than the ordinary journalist's routine. It requires that the journalist abandon many of the clichés and habits which now make up his very craft. It certainly requires that he know something in detail about the great variety of left-wing thought and action in the world today."

Many journalists in the United States have spent many years of their lives studying, researching, reporting revolutions. I, for instance, started this task in 1917 in the city of Petrograd where the Soviet Revolution began; I lived through nearly 14 years of revolution in China. I know other reporters who have had similar experiences — if not for so long a period, perhaps more intensely in equally difficult situations. Professor Mills has had no such experience and two weeks in Havana in August 1960 did not give it to him.

So the professor, not having knowledge or experience, resorts to a device. He will write as though he were a Cuban and as a Cuban, he will blame everything on the United States. He comes up with this learned, scholarly paragraph which I hope no editor will censor because Americans ought to see what an American professor writes when he tries to imitate a Cuban:

"The gay tourist city of Havana — in the old days it was more than a place of sin. We Cubans, like everyone else, we know all about sin being Catholics of a sort. But in Havana, sin was also the big money for the few, and every filthy practice of the brothel for girls 12 to 14 years old, fresh from their bohios. On the Prado and on the narrow street called The Street of Virtues, they and their pimps solicited you — and then Batista and his henchmen got their cut."

Then he goes on to say:

"Maybe you don't know two facts about the gambling and the whoring. A lot of that gambling money ended up in the pockets of a corrupt Cuban Government, which your Government (the United States) and some of your corporations supported and helped. Also much of it ended up in the pockets of your gangsters from Chicago and New York and Los Angeles. The money you paid for your whoring sisters."

Of course, this may be some sort of special pleading but decent people do not traffic in prostitution and the Cubans would not have had this to say about their sisters but found an American professor of sociology who was willing to attribute the downfall of Cuba to the wickedness of Cuban women who took advantage of American tourists.

Professor Mills does not apparently recognize that Soviet Russia has established a political and military base 90 miles off the coast of the United States. This country has been asked by its neighbors to protect them from Cuban attacks on them, utilizing Soviet arms, Fidel Castro, Raul Castro, Che Guevara have time after time established their close association with the Kremlin. But all of this Professor Mills does not know. His book tells nothing of this. His book, being press agency, says nothing that deals with anything but the necessities of his own press agency.

★ The Doctor Says ★

You Never Are 'Bilious';
Here Is How Bile Works

By HAROLD T. HYMAN, M.D.

Written for Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

The words "bilious" and "biliousness" ought to be thrown out of our language. They're often used to describe conditions with which bile has nothing to do.

I must have a dozen or more letters on my desk requesting suggestions for the relief of "biliousness" and I'm quite sure that, in each instance, the writer's true complaint could be more accurately described as a feeling of being "blue" or "down-in-the-mouth."

Perhaps an explanation of what bile is and what it does will help you to steer clear of these misleading expressions.

The human liver normally manufactures between a pint and a quart of bile each day. When food enters the stomach, especially after a fat meal, bile flows into the intestines.

Between meals, for the most part, bile is stored in the gall bladder which is about the size and shape of a lady's change purse. Thus the path of bile flow is from liver directly to intestines or from liver to gall bladder to intestines.

Never, under any circumstances, does anyone suffer from an excessive bile secretion ("biliousness").

Never, except when the flow of bile is shut off by an obstruction, does anyone suffer from a deficiency of bile.

And never, under any circumstances, does true bile get into the blood. Even when a person is jaundiced, the yellow coloration is due to pigments contained in the bile. Not to bile itself.

Perhaps you will now understand why I say that there is no point in trying to stimulate the liver to increase or reduce the flow of bile or to alter the character of bile secretion.

The best way to stimulate the gall bladder to expel its content of bile is to include a little butter or cream with the meal.

In another column I will take up the question of gallstones.

blow, since replacing them by educating new personnel would take years, even assuming that adequate educational facilities were available.

The Cuban government already has done the country great harm through its intemperate, ill-considered program of seizing American properties on the island. This has done grievous injury to Cuba's economy. There is a great lack of trained personnel to run the former U. S. businesses. Now it appears that technical personnel, along with doctors and other professional men, are getting out while the getting is good. The loss to them may fatally cripple the Castro government.

Goals for Americans

Solution of German Problems Difficult

By DR. WILLIAM L. LANGER
Professor of History,
Harvard University

One of a series of easy-to-read condensations from chapters written by eminent American authorities for book publication by Prentice-Hall with the Report from President Eisenhower's Commission on National Goals. Edited by Rex Crowley for Newspaper Enterprise Assn. (Copyright 1960, the American Assembly.)

A solution of the German problem in terms acceptable to the Free World is probably remote.

The control of East Germany has given the Russians a more advanced military base than they have ever before had in Europe. It is most unlikely that they will voluntarily relinquish their hold or agree to the reunification of Germany on other than Communist terms.

The Russians also don't overlook that the Federal Republic might resort to military action to recover its lost territories in the expectation that the United States would be impelled to lend them support.

Proposals designed to make reunification tolerable to the Russians, such as those for the withdrawal of Germany from NATO and its neutralization or demilitarization, are bound to be repudiated by the Germans.

Suggestions for disengagement, the creation of neutral zones and kindred schemes may offer certain political attractions but involve such serious military disadvantages as to make them unacceptable not only to the Germans but to NATO generally.

Would Weaken NATO
Any withdrawal of American forces from Germany, not to say from Europe, would tremendously weaken the NATO structure, while the Russians, having withdrawn behind their own frontiers, would still be relatively close at hand and certainly in a position to exert decisive pressure in German affairs.

It has been the policy of the United States for years to aid the recovery of Germany, to give the West Germans control of their own affairs, and to secure for the Federal Republic membership in NATO. This policy has been one not only of military defense but also of political design.

Through the close association of West Germany with the Free World it has been possible to encourage and support the forces of liberalism and democracy, as well as to draw upon German military capabilities for the defense of Germany itself and of all western Europe.

There is no doubt some danger that as German military power and German influence in NATO councils continue to grow there may be an increase of concern and even of distrust on the part of some NATO members.

It should certainly be an American goal to further in every way the reconciliation of France and Germany, and the mutual understanding between Britain and Germany.

The United States must strive to retain the confidence of the Germans, for the latter are only too well aware that the continued division of Germany is at least acceptable to some of their allies.

U. S. Must Take Lead
The United States must therefore be ready to take the lead in exploring possibilities of German reunification. It must contribute fully to the firm and unflinching defense of the western position in Berlin. Existing arrangements with respect to that great city, while far from ideal, have proved workable over the years.

If the Soviets continue to agitate the question of Berlin's status, it would seem to be in the desire to force the surrender of several millions of Berliners to the Communist German Democratic Republic and to demonstrate to the West Germans and the entire world that the ultimate power resides in the Soviet Union.

Must Stand by Rights
The Soviets have thereby left the western world no choice but to stand by its established rights.

The United States must continue to defend the Germans of West Berlin and to uphold the regime of free access to the city, even if Communist action creates the risk of war.

A final solution of the Berlin problem must await a general German settlement. This means that the United States and NATO will continue to be faced by a precarious and highly explosive situation. Since much more is involved than the fate of the city, the Berlin problem must be viewed as a crucial issue in the East-West conflict.

DO YOU REMEMBER

By SOPHIE MILLER

If you ask an average youngster who Rip Van Winkle was, he will tell you many things about him, such as "he slept for 20 years," "he had a dog by the name of Wolf" and perhaps even tell about Rip's wife, the sharp-tongued Dame Van Winkle. Old timers might even point to the spot where Rip Van Winkle slept, in our Catskill Mountains. Everyone knows just what Rip Van Winkle looked like around here, yet how many know about Washington Irving, who first put the story on paper from his own imagination.

I mentioned before, the group of books loaned me by a reader among which is the American Collector magazine, dated October, 1947, which covers Washington Irving's life and "Sunnyside" castle on our Hudson River. George S. Hellman, author of "Washington Irving, Esq.," and co-editor of "Journals of Washington Irving," wrote about his life in this magazine. Irving remained a bachelor. In this article is a fine reprint of a miniature done by the famous miniature artist, Anson Dickinson of Malaga Island, who died at the age of 18. Irving had been engaged to her.

There is also a copy of the portrait of Daniel Webster, done by Jane Stuart, daughter of the famous American portrait artist, Gilbert Stuart. Webster initiated Irving's appointment as U. S. Minister to Spain. I did not know that Gilbert Stuart had a daughter who painted so well. That just proves again, that if you surround children, with books, with art, with music whatever talent they may have will have a chance to show itself. The home in such a case is more important than the school.

Quoting in part from this article, "Irving was born April 3, 1783, in the very week that the official ending of the American Revolutionary War was confirmed by the agreement reached at Paris between Great Britain and France. Washington Irving died in 1859, shortly before the beginning of our Civil War. Irving was the first richly gifted American author to give us, in Rip Van Winkle and in the tale of the Headless Horseman, legends which have clothed the Hudson Valley in a veil of romance. How fitting that here in the Sleepy Hollow country his home should now be made a national shrine. . . . Here at Sunnyside, generations of American will come, to have their imagination stimulated, their local sentiment developed, their pride in the beauty of their land increased."

We know and love Washington Irving for such writings as the

Report on National Goals Seen Weak on Some Issues

By DAV. D. LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29—An important report has just been issued by President Eisenhower's Commission on National Goals. It is about 20,000 words long. It contains some penetrating observations. But who will read the full text of it? It covers two newspaper pages. How many newspapers could possibly give space in a single day to such a big output of works without sacrificing other news? Yet the commission says:

"In far too many communities newspapers are inadequate in their coverage of significant public affairs. The problem of interesting and informing mass audiences, which most media must serve, is a constant challenge."

Disregarded Own Report
If this same commission had given a little thought to how its own report might have gotten wider attention, and if other government agencies would do likewise, there would be a greater spread of such information.

There is, for instance, no reason why this same report could not have been divided into separate sections, with each one released on a different day through a whole week. Thus, the section on foreign trade could have been dealt with separately. So also the section on national defense is a problem by itself. Similarly, recommendations on foreign policy might well have been the subject of a single release. Education is too important a topic to be merged with several others in one report.

Dissents Tagged On

Many parts of the big report are, of course, highly controversial. It is too bad that a dissenting opinion on one or two points is buried at the end of the long report instead of being printed immediately after the section that deals with this topic. An example is what the commission says on racial discrimination in employment.

"One role of government is to stimulate changes of attitude. Additional municipal, state and federal legislation is essential. The Federal government should enforce the principle that Federal funds shall not be disbursed to employers who discriminate on the basis of race. Similar policies should progressively be applied to Federal grants for universities, hospitals and airports and to Federal housing programs."

This is a sweeping recommendation, and a sharp dissent was voiced by a business member. For it's a short step from such a proposal to a law forbidding tax deductions to any business that doesn't hire the employees that the Federal government may wish to select for that business, irrespective of efficiency.

Naturally, it might seem to require an amendment to the Federal Constitution to do such things, but this is no problem for those who believe the present amending process is too "time-consuming," as President Franklin D. Roosevelt once said, and that it is much simpler to pick new judges to do any rewriting of the Constitution that may be desired.

The Commission on National Goals says some very fine things in its report and does lay stress on individual responsibility and the need for preservation of the free-enterprise system. But this appears to be contradicted by recommendations for bigger and bigger outlays of Federal money for sociological purposes. Almost nowhere, except in the dissenting portions of the report, is any concern exhibited over the high rates of taxation faced by both business and individuals. No suggestions are made on how to produce more tax money, though there are many thousands of words about how to increase national output and augment our national growth.

Vague on Labor Relations

Some generalities and abstractions are to be found in this report as in many others and in public speeches by prominent persons in both political parties — in handling delicately the subject of relations between management and labor. The idea seems to be that these two economic groups, when properly exhorted, will cooperate in a Utopian manner. There is not a single sentence about the damage being done to the whole economic structure—both in domestic and foreign trade—by the political ambitions of labor union leaders who capitalize on greed and selfishness and let the public interest suffer. Much is often said about the need for higher wages, but little is said about the need for higher productivity and the elimination of waste.

Even an analysis of the commission's report cannot be done in a single dispatch, especially as to those broad and significant recommendations about nuclear weapons and the whole Communist operation in the "cold war." This in many ways affects our "national goals" more than anything else in the realm of national planning.

So They Say..

If we continue on the path of cold war by piling armaments higher and higher and hooking the triggers on our bombs, the end of this decade may well see most of us dead.

—Dr. Edward P. Condon, professor of physics at Washington University, St. Louis.

Geography in putting our two nations together has underscored the necessity for us not only to act as good neighbors but also be good friends.

—President Eisenhower, at a meeting with Mexican president Adolfo Lopez Mateos.

* It is not an easy thing to talk an economy into a recession and I honestly don't think it is going to happen to us this time. I must concede that that possibility is being put to a very severe test.

—Raymond Saulnier, top administration economist.

Area Doctors, Nurses Attend Albany Seminar

Physicians and nursery nurses in the Kingston area have been invited to attend a pediatrics symposium at the Albany Medical College, Thursday.

The program will be devoted to a discussion of various problems and illnesses of early infancy. It will begin at 10 a. m. and continue until 4:30 p. m.

Four visiting professors will join with members of the Albany Medical College faculty to present the symposium. They are Dr. Heinz F. Eichenwald, Cornell University Medical College; Dr. Helen S. Reardon, Temple University School of Medicine; Dr. William A. Silverman, Columbia University College of Physicians and Surgeons; and Ethel M. Tschida, Cornell University - New York Hospital School of Nursing.

Among the topics slated for discussion are prevention of premature birth, nursing and medical care of premature infants, infectious diseases of the newborn, and management of diabetic mothers.

The symposium is sponsored by the Department of Postgraduate Education of the Albany Medical College and the New York State Department of Health.

Physicians attending the symposium will receive category one postgraduate study credit from the American Academy of General Practice.

No Need for Slowing South

BY OSWALD JACOBY
Written for
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

North wasn't at all proud of his opening spade bid and when South jumped to three hearts, North's first thought was to bid three no-trump to try to slow South down.

After some further thought North decided that his hand was not one to be ashamed of and that his three trumps to the king-ten and diamond singleton warranted an immediate raise.

South might have jumped right to seven hearts after the raise, but he used the Blackwood four and five no-trump to check for kings and eventually placed the hand in seven hearts rather than in seven no-trump.

It was a wise decision although seven no-trump can be made with double dummy play. Seven hearts is much easier. Almost any reasonable play will bring home the contract, but the play South actually adopted was surest.

He won the opening trump lead in his own hand; cashed the ace of diamonds; ruffed a diamond; got back to his hand with a spade; ruffed his last diamond; got back with the ace of clubs; drew trumps; and spread his hand.

Connolly Queen Bees

Members of the Connolly Queen Bees 4-H Club worked on Christmas green project at the recent meeting at the firehouse. The girls were requested by Mrs. Sara Wells, secretary of the Hasbrouck Engine Company to present a play for the younger children of the community at the annual Christmas party. Miss Kathy Beisel will be director for the play.

Plans were also made to issue a monthly newspaper.

Attending the meeting were Kathy Beisel, Irene Slattery, Betty Van Wert, Katie Westbrook, Dorene, Charlene and Debby Lasher, Maxine Westbrook, Patricia Fitzgerald, Linda Scully, Carol Graf, Karen Grosz, Charlotte Swartzmiller, Karen Deyo, Ann Giles and Kathy West. Mrs. Mary Ricker, leader, was in charge of the meeting.

AMA Makes Claim

WASHINGTON (AP) — The president of the American Medical Association today claimed increased strength in the new Congress to oppose Social Security coverage of medical care for the aged.

Promising a continuing battle against the type of aged health care supported by President-elect John F. Kennedy, Dr. F. Vincent Askey of Los Angeles said in an address prepared for the AMA policy-making House of Delegates: "I remind you that medicine has many friends in both parties in Congress today. In fact, I would say that in this year's national elections we have increased that number in both the House and Senate."

YOUR POCKETBOOK

By FAYE HENLE

Reduce Borrowing, Boost Savings Is Good Economy

You and your employer have more of a financial stake in the nation's free enterprise system than at any time since the end of World War II.

As the Philadelphia Reserve Bank's monthly review points out, the kind of assets you hold tell the story of where you have placed your faith.

When you put your surplus dollars in bank accounts and government securities, you've pledged your faith in the financial and the federal government.

But when you put those dollars into the securities of private companies, when you borrow from business to make purchases and the business world is awaiting your repayment, you and the business world have pledged your faith in each other.

Obviously there are more risks in the second situation. Now look at what has happened to the public's holdings of various types of assets in the past 15 years.

• Consumer holdings of common stock increased from 28 to 45 per cent of the public's total claim to wealth. More than twice as many people own common stock today as did seven years ago.

• Currency, bank deposits, savings shares and government securities have shrunk from 50 per cent to 30 per cent of the public's total wealth.

• Consumer credit plus business holdings of trade receivables (money owed from other companies) rose from about 30 per cent to almost 50 per cent of business wealth. Liquid assets now represent only about two-fifths of business wealth, as opposed to three-fifths 15 years ago.

What does all this mean for your pocketbook even if you don't own stocks and are not heavily in debt? To find out, we have to look back those 15 years.

As we emerged from World War II, the prediction was for widespread unemployment and hard times for all. That didn't happen because in the immediate postwar years, people held a relatively high amount of liquid assets.

Their debts were relatively low. They wanted many things—homes and cars, refrigerators, washers, radio and TV. As fast as the items became available they were bought, and the biggest danger we faced was runaway inflation.

Today a great many of our needs have been satisfied. We have spent and borrowed to satisfy them. Anxious to increase our wealth, we and our employers have invested money in areas where the hope is high it will grow.

But while our economy is far more secure against financial shocks than it has been in the past, we should not forget that there exist no overall economic policies that insure continued high level of common stock prices or insure the money owed to business by other businesses or by consumers.

A sharper stock market decline than we have already suffered could further cut the level of our spending, make it more difficult for debtors to repay and further weaken prosperity.

Already a great many of us are aware of this. We have cut our borrowing and stepped up our saving. We won't be safe, however, until each one of us understands that as never before,

THEY'LL DO IT EVERY TIME (Registered U. S. Patent Office)

Glancing Over TV Bill of Fare

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP TV-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—While the tinkle of the bells of the sidewalk Santas rings across the land and the Christmas spirit of peace is abroad in the world, television-land is locked in fierce combat—more violent than ever before.

In the good old days—well, until fairly recently—the Columbia Broadcasting Company and the National Broadcasting Company battled in gentlemanly fashion for audiences, ratings and sponsors' coin. The smaller, poorer American Broadcasting Company had to be content with the leftovers.

Now, however, tough, ambitious hard-fighting ABC has shoved and pushed itself into the competition. Currently it is right up with the big two in the favor of the audiences.

None of this has made CBS and NBC very happy—audience ratings now reflect a three-way split and often these days they are on the short ends of the pole.

The two established networks have had a tendency to regard the upstart ABC in much the way old established social leaders regard the activities of a pushy, new-rich family, particularly since ABC has made no bones about its uncomplicated interest in getting big audiences. It has done it, largely by scheduling action and adventure in massive doses and—until very recently—taken little time for the so-called "finer things" of TV—public information shows and many specials.

ABC seems particularly to have thrown a scare into NBC recently. Robert Sarnoff, president of the network, was so irked by ABC and its claims he took a specific slap at the rival, in the course of a public speech to executives of stations affiliated with the network. He complained about ABC's concentrated programming and called it a "narrow-gauge network."

Intratelevision competition should be healthy rivalry and produce better programs for the viewing public. Unfortunately, this one—particularly if it becomes a struggle for financial survival—may have just the opposite effect. If ABC's formula of entertainment shows with lots of Westerns and private eyes, continues to attract increasingly large audiences and sponsors, both CBS and NBC may be forced to join it if they can't beat it with all their fine—an expensive—public affairs shows and specials.

Central Vermont RR Set for Curtailment

ST. ALBANS, Vt. (AP) — The Central Vermont Railway today prepared for curtailment operations which may be forced by a labor dispute which threatens major Canadian railroads.

The line's day train "Ambassador" which operates from Montreal to New York and Boston through Vermont would be cancelled, a spokesman said. The last northbound trip through Vermont would be Dec. 2.

The northbound "Montrealer" from New York and Washington would terminate in St. Albans on Dec. 3 and originate from St. Albans southbound at a regularly scheduled departure times beginning Saturday night. It would not operate into Canada.

General manager Donald M. Kerr said freight train schedules on the Central Vermont would be adjusted to whatever service is needed to move traffic.

Caracas Moving To Crush Riots

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP) — Strict security measures were enforced by troops today as President Romulo Betancourt's moderate Socialist government moved to crush leftist rioting that has raged since Friday.

The rioting, apparently inspired by admirers of Prime Minister Fidel Castro of Cuba, resulted in one person being killed Monday. Altogether four have been killed since the start. Scores have been injured and up to 200 are reported in jail.

The rioting so far has been confined to Caracas, capital of this oil-rich nation. Riot leaders have directed their fiercest attacks on police stations.

Authorities had a free hand under a suspension of civil guarantees. Army, navy and air force commanders made a special trip to the presidential palace to pledge support to Betancourt, a pipe-smoking intellectual who has tried to steer Venezuela on a moderate Socialist path since taking office two years ago after the ousting of dictator Marcos Perez Jimenez.

Although the rioters have not outlined a specific program, they proclaim their opposition to the government in general terms and shout slogans backing Castro.

Betancourt charged Communists and the Movement of the Revolutionary Left, a Marxist splinter group, touched off the riots. Although authorities thought they had the situation under control after army units were flown here from the interior, violence flared again Monday night with an attack on a police station in the capital's Sucre district.

(Morgan Davis & Co.)

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market gave up ground grudgingly early this afternoon.

Declines were held to fractions for the most part, although some key issues were off a point or more. For some of these—such as Chrysler and Jersey Standard—this meant new 1960 lows.

The Associated Press 60-stock average at noon was off 0.70 to 215.60 with industrials down 1.50, rails down 0.20 and utilities down 0.10. Similarly, the Dow Jones average of 30 industrials declined 2.22 to 603.21.

Steels, motors, rubbers, most aircrafts, chemicals, oils and tobacco joined in the downswing. Trading moved at an active pace, somewhat slower than Monday's business.

Analysts saw the market as acting fairly well in the face of the generally discouraging business news, plus Monday's pronounced weakness in foreign stock exchanges.

Corporate and U.S. government bonds were lower.

capitals. Bowles is a former ambassador to India and a former governor of Connecticut.

The White House announced Monday that Kennedy and Eisenhower will meet in the President's office a week from today for a discussion of transition of government control from the Republican administration to the new Democratic regime.

Not Worried by Recounts

Plans for such a conference have been in the works since Kennedy's Nov. 8 election victory. Kennedy said he is not worried about GOP challenges of the presidential election vote in a number of states, including Illinois and Texas where his margin was narrow.

"My information is that the count has been accurate," Kennedy told newsmen as he left the Georgetown home of Dean Acheson, secretary of state in the Truman administration.

Kennedy spent 15 minutes with Acheson amid speculation that selection of Secretary of State for the new administration may be near.

Asked whether he had offered Acheson a job, Kennedy replied: "That is not what I came to see him about."

He said he and Acheson had talked over "some of the responsibilities I bear," but he would go into no detail.

Chamber, Mayor

Mayor Radel's suggestion in his letter to you that a small committee of local people be set up to meet with you in Albany, at your convenience, to discuss the matter. We believe that factors of public convenience and safety are involved which could best be presented at a personal conference.

"The complete stoppage of traffic in the vicinity of the viaduct would divert much traffic to and from Route 209, Route 28, and the Thruway, to the Hurley Mountain Road, a winding county highway. This road crosses a small, narrow, dangerous wooden bridge over a railroad. Numerous other factors are involved which we would like to present to you for your consideration before final plans are developed.

"We believe that a very short detour could be maintained at very little extra cost.

Old Bridge Practical

"One objection to a detour already heard locally is that it would necessitate the construction of a temporary bridge over the Esopus Creek at considerable additional cost. As suggested in Mr. Stang's letter of December 22, 1959, it seems practical to use the present bridge during the entire period required for the construction of the proposed new bridge. A short temporary detour, if necessary, between the southerly end of the present bridge and Taylor Street might be necessary.

"We sincerely hope you will be able to set up a conference in Albany to discuss this important matter."

Held for Mail Fraud, He Asks Hospital Exam

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP)—A man accused of mail fraud had federal court permission today to enter a hospital for psychiatric examination and care.

But Jerald C. Elger, 29, of Syracuse, must report to a U.S. attorney upon release from the Syracuse Veterans Administration Hospital, Judge Stephen W. Brennan of U.S. District Court ruled Monday.

Elger pleaded innocent to 23 counts of using the mails to defraud. He was accused of advertising model railroads, accepting advance payments, and failing to deliver.

Apalachin Appeal May Be Left to Kennedy Regime

NEW YORK (AP) — The Kennedy administration may have to decide whether to appeal the dismissal of conspiracy convictions against 20 delegates to the 1957 underworld convention at Apalachin, N.Y.

The U.S. Court of Appeals in an unanimous decision Monday dismissed the cases, ruling that the government had failed to prove its charge.

The three-man court called the government's case a "boot strap operation" based on "crash methods."

Justice Department officials in Washington declined comment pending a study of the opinion. Solicitor General J. Lee Rankin has 30 days in which to apply for a review by the U.S. Supreme Court. He also could request a 30-day delay, in which case the question of whether to seek a ruling by the nation's highest court might be left to the John F. Kennedy administration, which takes office in January.

When the men were convicted last Jan. 13, Atty. Gen. William P. Rogers called it a major blow in the government's battle against organized crime.

The government had contended that the Apalachin gathering had a sinister motive—such as assigning gangland territory and rackets. But the appeals court said that after all these years there "is not a shred of legal evidence" that the convales was illegal or even improper in either purpose or fact.

The 20 defendants have been free on bail pending the appeal of federal sentences ranging from three to five years on the conspiracy charges.

number of points, including the following:

Not only controversial issues but all important details of educational meetings should be presented to the communications media. P-TA meetings should have more publicity before they are held, with a clear and cordial invitation to the public to attend.

Parents Should Show Interest

Every parent should attempt to meet the principal and teachers of the school attended by his child. Board meetings are open to the public and more people should be encouraged to attend. The board should publish an inexpensive brochure to inform the public on educational problems and issues.

It was also pointed out that parent-teacher conferences are an important form of educational communication. Also, it was felt that some designation should be made on report cards of handicapped children explaining the handicaps and measuring his performance in relation to it. In speech and hearing fields the handicapped center tries to coordinate therapy with school work.

It was brought out that in parent-teacher school conferences last year 85 per cent of the parents participated. The 15 per cent who didn't should be encouraged to participate in the future.

Good to Know Programs

It was also felt that P-TA people should be encouraged to show more interest and acquaint themselves with school curriculums and to organize a speaker's bureau to supply speakers on request, in order to better present the educational point of view.

Rose summed up the findings of the workshops, pointing out that a community has the right to know the purpose and plan of education, the education program, its problems, promise and price. Leaders should prepare the public, he said. Leadership has the responsibility to promote ideas. The professional staff must produce good education.

McCarthy emphasized the importance of advanced publicity prepared in an interesting manner, and the follow-up after a meeting is held, calling attention to the importance of getting information to news media immediately before the news becomes stale.

Refreshments were served by the George Washington School P-TA.

"My Darling Nellie Gray" was composed by Benjamin Russell Handy, who was born in Rushville, Ohio.

Combine Purchases
To Best Groups

ROGER E. SPEAR

Q "You have written in your columns about relative action of stock groups. On that basis, what groups have done the best in 1960?" N. M.

A This is an intelligent question, and I'm pleased to help you. Here at my office I have just completed a study of the action of 57 stock groups in relation to each other and to the market as a whole, from Jan. 5 to Nov. 4—just prior to the election.

During this period, when the Dow-Jones Industrial Average declined 13 per cent, a number of stock groups were actually moving higher. These include, in the order of best performance, cosmetics, food packaging, finance companies, brewing, dairy products, tobacco, food packing, proprietary drugs, printing and publishing, motion pictures and soft drinks. Other groups which have resisted the decline in varying degrees include electronics, variety chains, natural gas, gold mining, and office equipment.

Of course some of the groups which have been declining are showing signs of bottoming out and may recover quickly. In this category I would include oils and office equipment. Also brewing, dairy products and gold mining, which have been acting well, may be close to their peaks and, for that reason, have lost some of their appeal.

Since individual stocks rarely move contrary to the trend in their group or industry, I think it's generally good policy to combine purchases to groups which are acting better than the market as a whole.

Q "I have been hearing a lot lately about Control Data Corp. Is it a good stock?" B. L.

A Yes, I consider it an excellent stock, though by no means cheap. Control Data (OTC) is a well managed company which seems to be aggressively pushing ahead in the computer field where even the giants find the going rough. A recent tie-in with National Cash Register could have an important effect on future earnings.

The BPW met at 5 p. m., to discuss the bid of the American Oil Co., to eliminate curbing in establishing a gas station on the Ingalls and Saccoman properties at Broadway and Franklin Street.

It was proposed that plans as presented be revised, since the board approved limited curb cuts "along Broadway while eliminating a driveway proposed for Franklin Street to be reconsidered at a later date if volume of business and expansion of facilities warrant such a driveway."

By SAM DAWSON

AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—A bad case of jitters on the London and Tokyo stock exchanges has coincided with speculation that the new U.S. administration might go still further than the present one in trimming American dollar spending abroad.

It also follows a call by President Eisenhower's Commission on National Goals for still more strenuous measures to halt the outflow of U.S. dollars and gold and for widening the gap in U.S. exports over imports.

At the same time the head of the Morgan Guaranty Trust Co. of New York asks for an increasing purchase of American goods by funds from foreign aid grants and loans.

Fears that this time Uncle Sam means business are thought to have been behind the heavy selling that hit the London Stock Exchange Monday morning and a similar big break in prices in Tokyo.

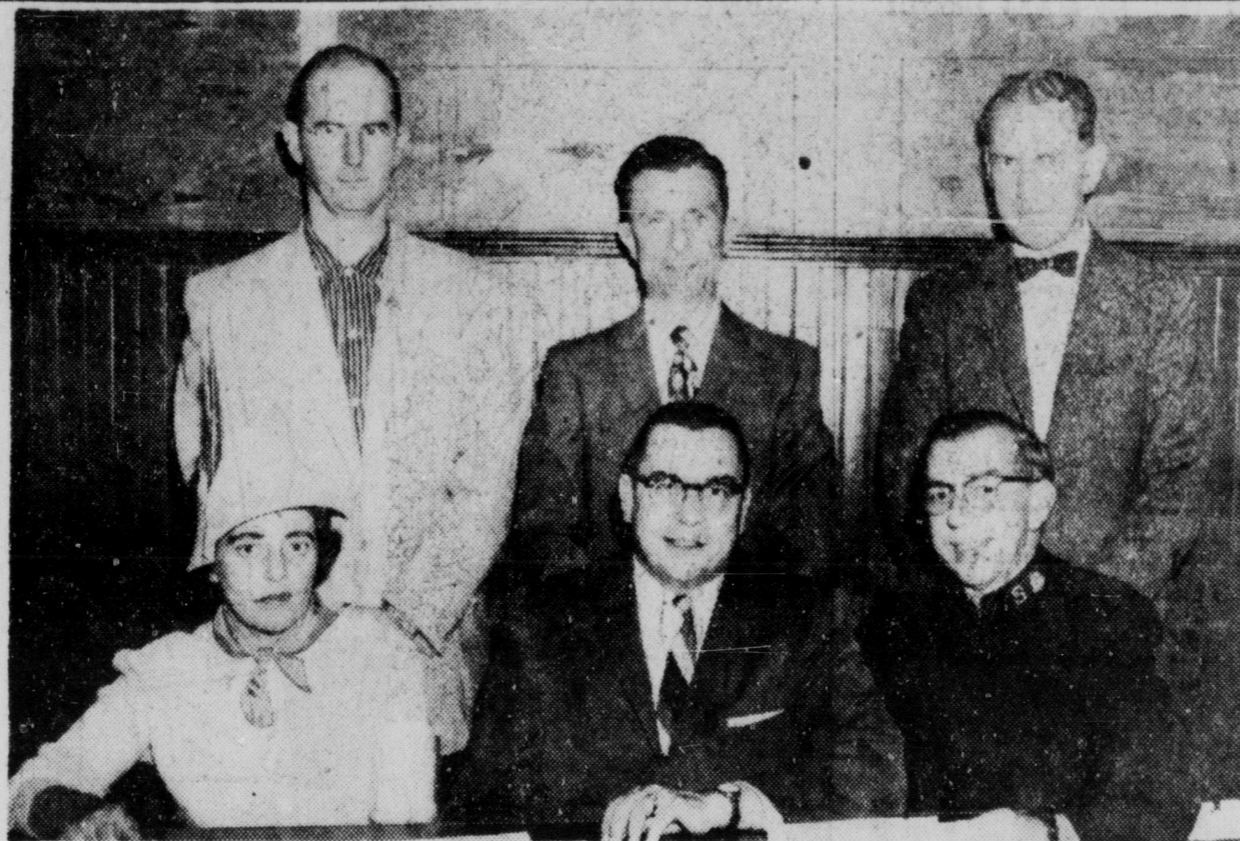

If he does intend to take stern measure to protect the value of the U.S. dollar, one of the mainstays of the continuing boom abroad, the flow there of U.S. dollars may turn shaky. Or at least foreign stock traders appear to think so.

The U.S. secretary of the Treasury made the American position clear in his recent visit to Europe: We can't go on carrying all the burden of aid to underdeveloped nations and our present share of the cost of defending Europe. The President has ordered a cut in spending by U.S. military and diplomatic missions and their personnel.

The President's commission echoes this, calling for a much higher export surplus, a smaller proportionate share of assistance to underdeveloped nations—putting the finger specifically on West Germany—and probably a greater share in the cost of new weapons systems by Western Europe.

Foreign stock traders might see all three of these as a threat to the continuance of Europe's economic boom of recent years—and hence to the market value of European stocks.

President-elect John F. Kennedy in his campaign promised vigorous steps to get other nations to remove artificial barriers to American goods and to share the foreign aid burden this country has borne since the war.

Christmas Fair, Dinner Scheduled By Church Women

New Palz—The annual Christmas fair and dinner, sponsored by both the Dutch Guild and Kerk League, will be held Wednesday. The dinner will be served in the Social Room of the church at 6:30 p. m.

The fair will be held in the Educational Building and will begin at 3 p. m. Chairmen for the fair are Mrs. Harold Lent, and Mrs. William Conner Jr.

Included in the fair will be many delicious home baked food articles as well as a variety of jellies and jams. Also included will be a large assortment of children's novelties.

Featured in the gift department will be many traditional items, such as candle sticks, trimmed stockings, sequin trimmed dog collars, and many other felt trimmed articles.

Also, knitted items, crocheted doilies, painted gifts such as tiles, scones, and many other fascinating things. Hand made chairs with Swedish designs, dolls in Colonial costumes, and Christmas earrings will be among other items.

Tickets for the dinner may be obtained at Lane - Sargents, Pine's Gift Shop, or at the church office from Mrs. David Lent.

Women's Guild Organized Here

All New Palz Reformed Church women, starting in January, will be united in an organization known as the Guild for Christian Service. Meetings will be held four times a year.

A number of subordinate groups are being planned to meet the various interests of the members. All church women may join as many of these interest groups as they chose, or none at all. The Ladies Aid, one of the present organizations will continue as one of the sub-groups.

Members of the three present groups, the Dutch Guild, the Ladies Aid and the Kerk League have all voted to unite in the new Guild for Christian Service. Officers for the coming year are president, Mrs. Jack Cotton; vice president in charge of spiritual life, Mrs. Paul Kurtz; vice president in charge of education, Mrs. Richard Culver; vice president in charge of service, Mrs. Gerald DuBois; vice president in charge of organization, Miss Ruth Jones; secretary, Mrs. David Lent; treasurer, Mrs. Francis Stone.

The officers met with the officers of the Dutch Guild and Kerk League recently for a planning session.

Legion Activities

The American Legion smoker held last Friday night was a huge success. Chairman of the committee for the event was John Casey, assisted by Lewis Vandemark, William Guener, William Kelly, Charles Deyo, Raymond Coats, and Commander Fred Kimlin.

Charles Deyo will act as chairman for the annual Christmas party sponsored by the Legion for the children of the town. The event will take place the week before Christmas.

The post is also sponsoring a New Year's Eve party to be held at the post hall from 9 p. m. to 1 a. m. Square and round dancing will be to the music of Barringer's Orchestra of Ulster Park. Refreshments and favors will also be featured.

Committee for the New Year's party will be Lewis Vandemark, Fred Kimlin, and Raymond Coats. It is hoped that many will participate in the first New Year's Eve party, and that reservations will be made as soon as possible.

Air Force Looks For Recruits in Kingston Sector

Applications from young men and women interested in a career in the U. S. Air Force have been invited by Sgt. Richard Lambert of the local recruiting office, 286 Fair Street.

Lambert explained that there is opportunity for immediate enlistment or application.

The air force is seeking applicants in a number of categories:

Non-prior-service, prior service, WAF (Women in the Air Force), air cadets navigator, nurses, and officer training school.

Will Go to Florida

The non-prior-service category is open to males between 17 and 27. They will receive basic training at Lackland Air Force Base, Tex., and upon completion of basic training will be assigned either directly to a school of their choice or to a base for on-the-job training and subsequent technical school.

The prior service category is open to former air force personnel and, in addition, is also selecting personnel who have served in either the army, navy or marine corps. They may be enlisted in their former grade and select a base of choice. Qualified applicants may select a direct school assignment for training in various phases of electronics.

A continuing need exists for women in the air force to train in many specialized fields. Basic requirements are high school diploma or equivalent. The applicant must be at least 18 years old and have good recommendations. They will be assigned to bases throughout the world. Applicants for air cadets navigator must have at least a high school education and may not be less than 19 years old. They will be sent to Griffiss Air Force Base for final testing. Selected applicants could expect a class call within approximately six weeks. Upon completion of flying training they would be commissioned second lieutenants in the air force reserve.

Officer training school is open to both men and women college graduates. They must be between 20½ and 27½ years old. They will attend a 12-week training course at Lackland Air Force Base, Tex., and commissioned second lieutenants in the reserve. College senior may apply 135 days prior to graduation. Lawyers may be commissioned in grade as high as captain.

Applicants for nurses must be 20 to 35 years old, graduates of a school of nursing, and may be commissioned as high as captain. There are also vacancies in the air force for qualified medical specialists such as physical therapists, occupational therapists and dietitians.

Mr. Merrill Milder went home and complained to his wife, I saw Tim Dooley downtown this morning and he didn't even speak to me. I guess he thinks I'm not his equal.

Mrs. Milder, Why that stupid, brainless, conceited, good-for-nothing, moronic Tim Dooley. You certainly are his equal.

A tourist in New York asked a beatnik. How can I get to Carnegie Hall?

Practice, man, practice, he answered.

A poker player, whose wife constantly complained of his late hours, stayed out even later than usual one night. He told the following of his attempt to get in unnoticed:

I slipped off my shoes at the front steps, pulled off my clothes in the hall, slipped into the bedroom, and began to slip into bed with the ease of experience.

My wife has a dog that on cold nights insists on jumping in the bed with us. So when I began to slide under the covers she stirred in her sleep and pushed me on the head.

Get down, Fido, get down! she said.

And, gentlemen, I just did have presence of mind enough to lick her hand, and she dozed off again!

He—The Beatles are so quiet tonight. Is there anything wrong?

She—No; they're always that way. When he proposed he just held up a diamond ring and said "Eh?" as she looked at it and said Uh-huh.

A Hollywood producer was determined to give his mother a birthday present that would outshine the luxurious gifts his brothers were giving her. He read about an amazing rhymin' bird which had a vocabulary of 4,000 words drawn from several languages and could sing 3 operatic arias. He immediately bought the bird for $50,000 and sent it to his mother.

The day after her birthday he telephoned.

Hollywood Producer—What did you think of the bird, Mother?

Mother—Delicious!

Bob—How can you afford such long holidays?

Joe—Easily. One month on the sands and 11 months on the rocks.

Air Force to Close 4 Bases by Mid-62

WASHINGTON (AP)—Four big air bases will be closed by the middle of 1962 as the Air Force mixes missile punch with its force of manned aircraft.

Closing of the four bases and a revamping of missions in 15 states will involve the transfer of nearly 16,000 officers and men and the elimination of 2,300 civilian jobs.

Here's what's in the offing: By June 1961, Mitchell Air Force Base, L. I., N. Y., will close down as an operating base, and the headquarters of the Continental Air Command now located there will move to Robins Base at Macon, Ga.

By June 1962, MacDill at Tampa, Fla., and Chennault at Lake Charles, La., will close down as B-47 Strategic bomber bases. A small part of MacDill will be retained for reserve training.

Donaldson Air Force Base, Greenville, S. C., will lose its regular Air Force status in the spring of 1962. The 33rd Troop Carrier Wing will move to Hunter Air Force Base at Savannah, Ga. Donaldson will be used for training of the 77th Reserve Troop Squadron under the Continental Air Command.

In addition to the two manned bomber wings that will be deactivated at MacDill and Chennault, the B-47 wing remaining at Dyess Air Force Base, Abilene, Tex., will also be removed from the active list in January 1962. But the Texas base will be used for support of a complex of Atlas Intercontinental Ballistic Missiles and will gain a troop carrier wing.

Also to be deactivated are three separate squadrons now maintained by the Strategic Air Command—the 2nd Air Refueling Squadron at Hunter Air Force Base, Savannah, the 3rd Strategic Support Squadron at Barksdale Air Force Base, Shreveport, La., and the 4th Support Squadron at Dyess.

The Air Force said the changes will permit fuller use of bases with more modern facilities.

Buffalo U Will Consider Move to Join State Plan

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP)—The University of Buffalo, a private institution, is considering the possibility of joining the state education system as a state university. The university's governing council Monday authorized Chancellor Clifford Furnas to explore the merits of such a move and to report his recommendations.

The announcement referred to the state's special report on higher education, prepared recently under Dr. Henry T. Heald. The report favored the establishment of two major state universities, one on Long Island and the other Upstate. In a letter to Gov. Rockefeller and the Board of Regents several days ago, Dr. Furnas said Buffalo was willing to discuss the possibility of becoming a state university. Dr. Furnas said no plans have been made yet for talks with the governor and the Board of Regents.

Hollywood News, Views

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Twenty years ago, a giant Negro with a body like a Greek god was playing superb football for UCLA. Today Woody Strode is carving out a new career as an actor and he is still a hard-muscled, flat-bellied giant of a man.

This time he is playing for the John Ford team. The cantankerous director gave Strode his first real dramatic part in "The Trial of Sgt. Rutledge." He played the title role as a frontier soldier accused of raping a white woman. Woody is again working for Ford, this time as a villainous Indian chief menacing James Stewart and Richard Widmark in "Two Rode Together."

"Ford browbeats me, but it's great working for him," Woody remarked. "This is a great part for me, the first time I've played an Indian. If I can pull it off, it might open a whole new field for me. If not, it's back to the jungle."

Woody has had a long, hard pull up from the sports jungles and then through the lairs of Tarzan and Rambo. Through it all, he has remained the same as when he played for UCLA, physically and temperamentally.

How does he do it? "Two hundred pushups every morning," said Woody. That helps maintain his 6 feet 4 inches at a trim 205 pounds. His temperament hasn't changed. He was a cool passer in his gridiron days, and he is still taking life as it comes. A brickmason's son, Woody grew up in the depression years in Los Angeles with never a thought of going to college—"we went to school to learn a job in those days." But in a couple of years he turned from a short fat boy into a slim athlete and attracted scholarships to several colleges.

He chose UCLA, and starred at end on a team that was also notable for Kenny Washington and Jackie Robinson.

After the war, Woody rambled through pro football, then drifted into professional wrestling. His performances as a TV wrestler led to a role as jungle chief in a Tarzan film.

Lehman Predicts De Sapia's Ouster Prior to Primary

NEW YORK (AP)—Former Sen. Herbert Lehman, a leader of insurgent Democrats, predicts Tammany Leader Carmine G. De Sapia will be ousted before next year's primary elections.

Lehman made the forecast Monday night after leaders of other anti-De Sapia movements joined the New York Committee for Democratic Voters. The group is led by Lehman, Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt and former Air Force Secretary Thomas K. Finletter.

The anti-De Sapia political leaders met four hours at Lehman's home. After the session, they issued a statement saying that district leaders with four of the 16 votes of the Manhattan Executive Committee had joined the insurgents.

Edward Costikyan, leader of the 8th assembly district south, was among the participants at the meeting. Costikyan recently circulated a petition against De Sapia without the support of Lehman and other reform leaders.

The statement said Costikyan had withdrawn his petition to support a new one drawn up by the merged forces last night. The group said they are seeking additional support from other district leaders on the executive committee.

Lehman said once De Sapia is ousted, his successor need not be someone from the reform movement but must be satisfactory to the group and committed to party reform.

Before Monday night's session, some members of the reform group believed it might be bad tactics at this time to try to remove De Sapia as leader of Tammany, the Manhattan Democratic organization.

His ouster, it was argued, might endanger the success of reform forces in areas where regulars are committed to De Sapia are in control.

Lehman indicated he intended to meet soon with Mayor Robert F. Wagner to discuss Monday night's action.

GOP Picks Moriarity To Seek Noonan Seat

SALAMANCA, N. Y. (AP)—Jeremiah J. Moriarity, a Franklinville lawyer, will be the Republican candidate in a Dec. 21 election to fill the Assembly seat of the late Leo P. Noonan.

Noonan, a Republican, died Nov. 8 of a heart attack in his Franklinville home, unaware he had been elected to his 11th consecutive term in the Assembly.

Moriarity won the GOP nomination Monday on the first ballot with 257 votes. Lloyd A. Russell, a peace justice from East Otto, got 96 votes, and William F. Schweir, a Franklinville school teacher, drew 52 votes.

The Democratic County Committee and the Liberal Party will select candidates Wednesday. Noonan defeated Democrat Levant M. Himlein of Olean and Liberal Francis Nelson of Salamanca in the November election.

To Direct Movie

NEW YORK (AP)—Jose Quintero, Broadway stage director, is to guide the screen version of "The Roman Spring of Mrs. Stone" by Tennessee Williams. Vivien Leigh will star in the film being made in London and Rome. Based on Williams' only published novel, the story concerns a love affair between an aging beauty and an Italian gigolo.

84 Cars Run Wild

Quick Thinking Prevents Serious Railroad Damage

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A string of 84 box cars loaded with grain ran wild for five miles through Philadelphia Monday night, but quick thinking by two Pennsylvania Railroad workers prevented serious injury or damage.

Frank W. Bartle, of Lansdale, Pa., a movement director, and Larry Vance, of Collingswood, N.J., a towerman in the West Philadelphia yards, combined to manipulate switches so that the runaway cars missed any passenger trains or other properties.

Bartle and Vance also routed the runaway cars—by manipulating track control switches—so as to bring them into an upgraded area where they came to a halt.

Several passenger trains were stopped a couple of miles away.

Charles M. Campbell, 55, of Camden, N.J., an engineer, and John A. Cooney, 38, of Narberth, Pa., were injured slightly when they jumped from a locomotive just before the runaway freight cars rammed it. They were treated for bruises at Presbyterian Hospital.

A PRR spokesman said, a freight train bound from Buffalo, N.Y., to Jersey City, N.J., stopped at the entrance to the Overbrook station in the West Philadelphia freight yards.

The locomotive and 75 cars pulled into the yards. Thirty-eight cars were left sitting on the main track for the locomotive to return and take them to Jersey City.

The 38 cars drifted one-half mile into the yard and hit the 75 other cars, causing derailment of 15 of them.

Eight derailed cars rammed into the 84 grain cars, which were on another track, jarring the brakes loose and setting them in motion at about 10 miles an hour.

When the runaway cars hit their peak of speed, the PRR spokesman said, they were moving about 40 miles an hour. They came to a stop at an upgrade on the main branch 19 minutes later.

Wreckage Found Of Plane Gone Since May 15th

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Forest rangers Monday night found the wreckage of a missing plane that carried four persons—including the ex-wife of violinist George Liberace—to their deaths.

The plane, missing since May 15 on a flight from Las Vegas, Nev., to Van Nuys, Calif., was found near Mt. Wilson, about 23 miles northeast of Los Angeles.

Others aboard included Ralph Quartaroli, 46, a wealthy Modesto, Calif., cannery owner and pilot; Ross Perrino, 49, a Los Angeles executive; and Perrino's wife, Santana, 45.

Wreckage was scattered over a wide area in nearly inaccessible terrain of the Angeles National Forest.

Liberace's ex-wife, Jayne, 42, divorced her husband, brother of pianist Lee Liberace, in September 1959. Her sister said she and Quartaroli had planned to wed.

'Hamwich' Trees Are Ideal For the Christmas Season

DEVILED ham sandwiches shaped like trees are unusual—and easy to make—items for the Yule season open house.

GAYNOR MADDOX
Newspaper Enterprise
Food & Markets Editor

Now begins the Christmas season, the time of peace on earth to men of good will. That means open house, friends dropping in, school vacation — yes, the season of visitations. So of course you'll want new recipes for snacks and tempting sandwiches. We think these ham trees are novel. And they are really delicious.

Hamwich Trees

(Each tree makes 4 servings)
One loaf white bread, sliced (20 slices); choice of ham spreads.

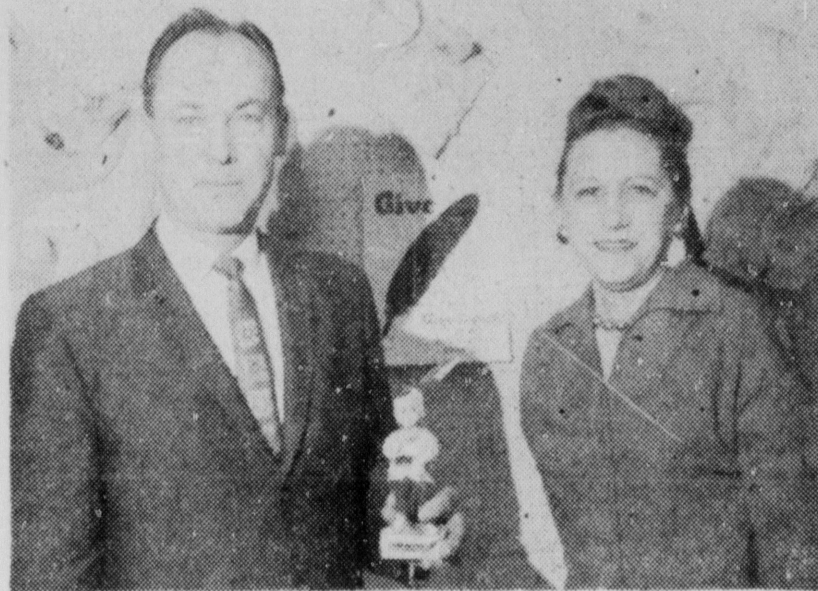

Cut bread into rounds of 4 sizes from 1 1/4 to 3 3/4 inches in diameter. Spread one of larger rounds with your favorite deviled ham spread. Top with round of same size. Repeat with rounds. Build sandwich trees with sandwiches of graduated rounds. Top with parsley or tiny bread star.

Filling Variations

1. One 4 1/2-ounce can deviled ham, 1/4 cup grated cheese, 1/4 cup chopped stuffed olives.
2. One 4 1/2-ounce can deviled ham, 1/4 cup sour cream, 1 tablespoon sweet pickle relish.
3. One 4 1/2-ounce can deviled ham, 1 teaspoon instant minced onion, 1/4 cup chopped green pepper or rings.
4. One 4 1/2-ounce can deviled ham, 1 tablespoon mayonnaise, tomato slices.
5. One 4 1/2-ounce can deviled ham, 1/4 cup chopped nuts, 1 finely chopped apple, 1 teaspoon horseradish.

TOMORROW'S DINNER:
Deviled ham canapes, boiled corned beef, creamed horseradish sauce, boiled potatoes, quick-cooked cabbage, rye bread or seeded rolls, butter or margarine, apple pie, coffee, tea, milk.

Ask New Trial

Top Carpenters Officials Given 2-14 Jail Terms

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — Two top officials of the Carpenters Union were sentenced to prison in the Indiana highway scandals Monday over the sharp protest of their attorney.

Counsel for Carpenters President Maurice A. Hutchison and Vice President O. William Blaier filed a motion for a new trial just before special Judge M. Walter Bell sentenced them to 2 to 14 years in prison.

Judge Bell then released the defendants on $5,000 bond each and set arguments for Jan. 4 on their motion for a new trial.

Attorney John A. Royce objected strongly to the sentencing of Hutchison and Blaier because the judge had not yet ruled on the new trial motion.

Hutchison and Blaier were convicted Oct. 28 of conspiracy and bribery of a state highway department employee in connection with a quick profit of more than $81,000 on highway right-of-way deals in Lake and Wayne counties in 1956.

Judge Bell fined each man $250 and ordered both to pay trial costs. He also barred them from voting or holding public office for five years.

The sentences were mandatory, but the fines could have been any amounts up to $15,000 each. Judge Bell explained he did not levy the maximum fines because Hutchison and Blaier paid back to the state their profits from the land deals.

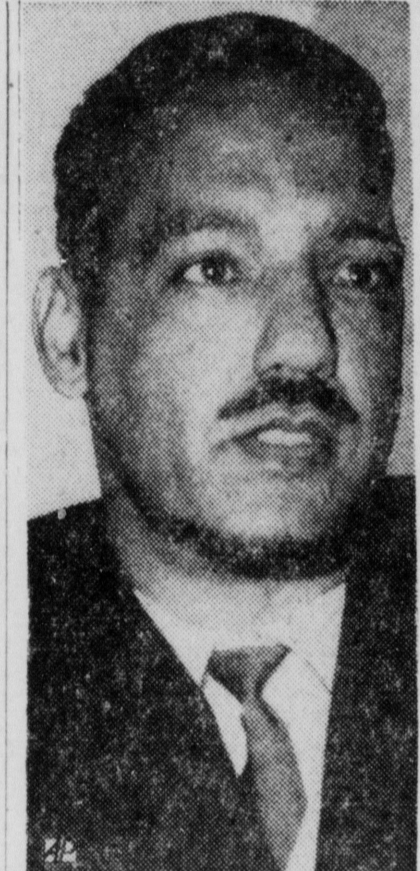

Harry O. Doggett, former assistant right-of-way chief of the State Highway Department, faces a charge of accepting bribes from Hutchison and Blaier.

Gardiner Democrats Plan Victory Event

Gardiner Democrats have completed plans for a victory and testimonial dinner to be held Saturday, Dec. 10 at 7:30 p. m. at the Ireland Corners Hotel.

Guests of honor will be Mrs. Anna Donahue, recently elected town clerk, and Lewis M. Jayne, member of the Town of Gardiner Board of Elections who is retiring after more than 25 years of active service.

John T. Casey is committee chairman. C. F. Heider is co-chairman. Other members are George Majestic, George Martinez, Robert Kaelin, Audrey Edelman, John Bonagura, and Dominick Formisane. Tickets may be obtained from any committee member.

10 Rebels Slain By U.N. Troops In Congo Ambush

ELISABETHVILLE, Katanga (AP)—A detachment of U. N. Nigerian troops killed at least 10 rebel tribesmen in a bloody ambush in this Congo province, the United Nations reported today.

Four Nigerians were wounded in the clash, which occurred Monday near the central Katanga township of Kabondo-Dianda, about 300 miles north of Elisabethville.

The Nigerians were surprised by the tribesmen at a roadblock concealed around a bend in a dirt road.

The tribesmen appeared out of dense bush and began firing on the Nigerians with bows and arrows and rifles.

Three Nigerians were wounded before the rest of the detachment opened fire with Sten guns.

The tribesmen repeatedly swept toward the Nigerian detachment in waves, apparently fearless from drugs. They ignored the withering fire.

Beside the 10 known dead, many tribesmen were wounded.

The Nigerians arrived at the western Katanga air force base of Kamina three days ago and were on their way to the terrorized town of Manono to fortify that important tin mining town.

Cast Subs for Cast

NEW YORK (AP)—A novel solution to the problem of giving the cast a vacation without interrupting a show's run was worked out by Producer Lore Noto of "The Fantasticks." Getting a second company of the revue ready for road tour, Noto broke the troupe in after rehearsal with a week's run at the Sullivan Street Playhouse while the original players rested. "The Fantasticks" has been at the off-Broadway spot over six months.

Full name of Lafayette was Marie Joseph Paul Yves Roch Gilbert du Motier.

Hurley Grangers Will Compete in Service Contest

HURLEY — Members of Hurley Grange 963 of the Town of Hurley are competing in the 14th annual Community Service contest sponsored jointly by the Sears-Roebuck Foundation and the National Grange with a top award of $10,000.

Additional awards valued at more than $60,000 are offered Granges competing in the nationwide self help community improvement project.

Acknowledging the Hurley Grange entry this week Herschel D. Newsom, Master of the National Grange, said "By entering this contest, Granges have become rural America's greatest force for community improvement. Thousands of Granges will, during the period of this annual contest, voluntarily contribute over five million man hours of their time and efforts to planning and conducting projects which make their communities a better place in which to live. This is community service the self-help way, the American way."

Newsom added that since the contest started 14 years ago, Grangers across the nation have devoted more than 50 million hours to the cause of building better roads, libraries, youth centers, health clinics, recreational areas and thousands of other facilities. These activities, Newsom said have resulted in community improvements valued at over $500 million.

According to Andrew Lehtonen, community service projects which the Hurley Grange has under way or planned are listed by Walter J. Stauble, community service chairman as follows: Sewing cancer dressings for the American Cancer Society; maintenance and beautification of the village memorial triangle; conduct the annual Memorial Day service; periodical visits to the Infirmary and TB Hospital serving the patients with refreshments and cheer; collection of old eye glasses and toys for foster children; place flags on graves of veterans in two cemeteries; support and aid 4-H Club, Boy Scouts and the Hurley library, and service contributions to the Ulster County TB and Health Association, Ulster County Heart fund and cancer, polio and CARE package.

Talk Openly Despite Threats

Castro's Ways Are Tough
For Sugar, Cattle People

Editor's Note—Harold K. Mills, chief of The Associated Press Caribbean service and former bureau chief in Moscow, visited Cuba's rich sugar and cattle areas to find out how things are going under the Castro regime. Here is a report.

CAMAGUEY, Cuba (AP)—Thousands of eastern Cuba's sugar and cattle workers are finding Soviet-style collectivization under Fidel Castro a bitter pill to swallow.

Many of them are saying so openly, despite the menace of Castro's Communist-armed militiamen, who are penetrating every segment of life in Oriente and Camaguey provinces.

A tour of these key provinces in Cuba's economy showed growing dissatisfaction among rural workers as well as city businessmen.

The opposition is taking many forms—from joking about learning Russian to outright physical opposition to the Castro revolutionary government and its program.

A Russian refugee who moved with the times and opened a school to teach Russian had trouble finding four students. By contrast, English classes at the Cuban-American Binational Institute are still crowded.

Hard to Live on Promises

"We supported Fidel when he was fighting (ousted President Fulgencio) Batista and many of us joined in fighting on his side," said one tall Camagueyan outside one of the new People's Stores where collective farm or ranch workers may buy from the government on carefully controlled credits. "But we are finding it harder every day to live on promises."

Frequently bare essentials, such as beans and rice, the traditional food of Cuban rural workers for years, are hard to find. The tall Camagueyan and his companion complained that the quality of the goods in the People's Stores is low and the prices high.

A survey through Oriente, Camaguey, Las Villas and Matanzas provinces reflects little business or industrial activity. Government public works programs appeared limited to rebuilding long stretches of the central highway which runs from one end of Cuba to the other. But even on this project there were long stretches of torn up road on which no work was being done. Some Cubans said the Public Works Ministry had run out of money for the projects.

Once-busy ranches, which formerly furnished Cuba all the meat the country needed, with some left over for export, appeared almost deserted.

Forsees Meat Shortage

"Castro's government doesn't know how to grow cattle," said one veteran rancher. "They drive them too hard and they feed them wrong. I can see a big meat shortage coming up next year, even if they do import three million pesos—$3 million at the official rate—worth of breeding stock. What they have destroyed can't be replaced in a few months."

Why, if so many people are against Castro, is he still in power?

A Camaguey automobile filling station operator gave a ready answer.

"We have complaints but Castro has guns. We are a lot of unorganized people feeling alike in our opposition to Castro and to communism but he has the organization—army and militia. Anyone who openly acts against that combination is crazy," he explained.

There are still many Cubans in all walks of life who are waiting for the United States to "do something to help us." Many of these look forward to an invasion backed by Washington as a means of overthrowing Castro.

Those more realistic admit it's a Cuban problem. But they say: "Now is not the time to move."

The Castro regime's security against this growing opposition is taking vigorous forms.

In Santiago, aside from a few dozen regular army soldiers guarding arms deposits—including one a few yards off the main highway—few armed men are in evidence except for occasional parades of militiamen.

Moving into Las Villas, with Escambray Mountains hideouts for anti-Castro insurgents, security is stepped up. More soldiers are seen and every barracks appears to be a well-defended fort.

Between Trinidad, on Cuba's south coast, and Cienfuegos, Castro forces appear on a war footing despite the claim that all the insurgents in the Escambray Mountains have been liquidated.

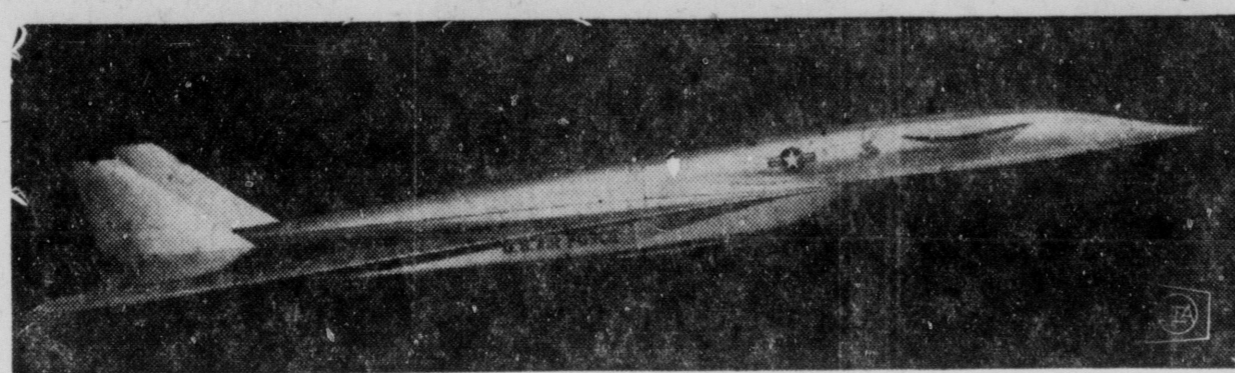

Patrols are active day and night and strategic points have been put under heavy guard.

Cubans who will talk say there are still hundreds of insurgents deep in Las Villas mountains. But they add they are now just "sitting and waiting."

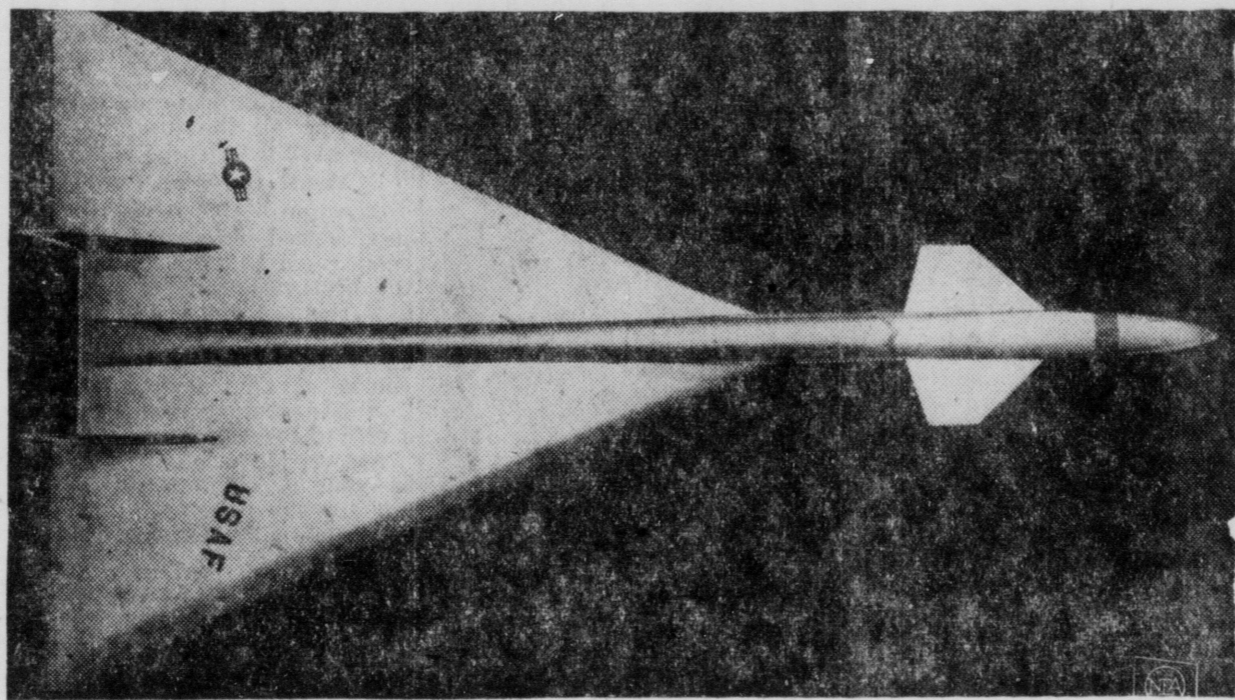

Most opponents of the Castro regime say the time for active opposition is still too early.

"Give us a few more months, until more people are hungry, then see what happens," they say.

Faster Than the Sun ---

Slowed for a while by a speeding cut, work is now progressing on the Air Force's B-70 Valkyrie bomber. Photos of wind tunnel models, above and below, show the plan's unusual streamlined shape. Like the Wrights' original craft, the B-70 will fly with its tail in front—but with a difference. It will be powered by six huge jet engines in the rear and be capable of 2,000 m.p.h. at altitudes up to 100,000 feet. It will fly faster than the earth revolves. It will be capable of flying 8,000 miles nonstop and could make a Los Angeles to Moscow hop in three hours. Being constructed by North American Aircraft, the first B-70 is expected to fly in 1963, forerunner of a planned fleet of 250 Valkyries. Cost of development for the first model: one billion dollars.

Workers Plunge
To Death From Con-Ed Plant

BUCHANAN, N. Y. (AP)—Two construction workers, each married and the father of two children, plunged 75 feet to their deaths from a scaffold at the Consolidated Edison nuclear power plant near here.

William Moen, 29, of Krugers, N. Y., and George Spangenberg, 35 of Mount Vernon, N. Y., were installing air ducts Monday at the Indian River power plant, which has been under construction for five years.

Authorities said an S-hook, which held one of the ropes on which the scaffold was suspended, gave way and the men were pitched off. They landed on the floor of the main reactor building.

Objector Gets Jail,
Ignored Work Order

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP)—A conscientious objector has drawn a one-year prison sentence for failing to report for civilian employment under court order.

Richard A. Reed, 24, of Plattsburgh, was sentenced in Federal District Court Monday after pleading guilty to the charge Nov. 16. Reed had been ordered by the court last Aug. 31 to begin work at Rochester General Hospital.

The charge is based on provisions of the Selective Service Act.

Over 1,000 Dental
Kits Given School
Children by Lodge

B'nai B'rith Zephaniah Lodge 131, has again donated more than 1,000 dental hygiene kits to Kingston school children. Each year, for more than 10 years, this local service club has made available to children these kits. The children many times cannot afford tooth brushes, tooth paste and tooth brushing instructions such as are provided in the kit.

B'nai B'rith, has been recognized for its dental hygiene program by the Dental Health Department of the Kingston Consolidated School System, and the Ulster County Dental Society. In addition, it has won recognition from the District Grand Lodge of B'nai B'rith, covering New York, New England and all of Eastern Canada to the extent that hundreds of other lodges in the district have been recommended to embark upon similar programs.

The dental hygiene kits are presently in the process of distribution among the school children with no charge to them for these gifts. In addition, qualified members of the dental hygiene committee are available for talks concerning the proper care and cleaning of teeth and gums.

Fire Causes Bright Glare

NORTHVALE, N. J. (AP)—Flames swept through a 50-acre tract of unoccupied swampland during the night, spreading a bright glare in the sky over a large area of northern New Jersey.

The swamp fire caused no injury or property damage. Fire officials said there was at least a quarter of a mile between the burned-out ground and the nearest structure.

The blaze occurred in Bergen County near the New York line.

Winners Listed

CHICAGO (AP)—Winners at the International Livestock Exposition Monday included:

Breeding cheviot champion ram—Mrs. David McDowell, Mercer, Pa., reserve champion, S. DeWitt Stewart, Bath, N. Y.

Aberdeen-angus junior champion bull—Ankony Farms, N. Y.

Crushed Under Auto

NEWBURGH, N. Y. (AP)—Karl Zeller, 38, was killed Monday night when his car slipped off a jack and crushed him while he worked beneath the auto.

Merrick Sets Record

NEW YORK (AP)—Broadway's busiest producer, David Merrick, has set a new output mark with six simultaneous shows. As far as the records show, the total is an all-time management high. The lineup includes "A Taste of Honey," "Becket," "Gypsy," "Irma La Douce," "L'Plume de Ma Tante" and "Take Me Along." Four are musicals, three are imports from London. Merrick also has two shows on tour, "The World of Suzie Wong" and "Destry Rides Again."

Wagner Denies Cop Corruption In Nitory Cards

NEW YORK (AP)—Mayor Robert F. Wagner has labeled charges of police corruption in handling of cabaret performers' licenses "entirely unsubstantiated."

Wagner made the state in a report Monday to Gov. Rockefeller, who had asked for the report. Wagner also assured union leaders that a new system would be set up whereby cabaret performers would be issued permanent identification cards at a midtown location away from police stations. The performers and other cabaret employees have complained about the present system of going to a police station and being fingerprinted to renew their identification cards every two years.

Junior Marrieds
Will Hear Talented
Dramatist Thursday

On Thursday, Mrs. George Warner will perform a program of "Dramatic Miniatures" for the Junior Married Women's Club of the YWCA. Mrs. Warner received her dramatic training at Bradley University in Peoria, Ill., and subsequently studied with Hope Sumers, a TV personality, and Maud Scherrer at the Beaux Arts in New York. She has worked in radio and other media but prefers this mode of expression having done more than 2,000 monodrama programs throughout the United States. Her annual fall tour was recently completed. This was a six weeks circuit of the mid-west which began in Chicago, Ill. and took her as far west as Omaha, Nebraska and south to Paducah, Kentucky. Mrs. William Keith, program chairman, as spokesman for the committee has expressed their special pleasure in having such a noted speaker entertain.

On behalf of the Christmas Fund Appeal for foster children, Mrs. Herbert Reuner urges all members to bring their donation of unwrapped new toys to the coming club meeting. After December 1, the gifts must be taken directly to the Welfare Department for allocation and distribution.

Another date of the holiday season for Junior Marrieds will be December 11 when the Hanging of the Greens ceremony will be held beginning at 1 p. m. The day will also feature entertainment and refreshments. Baby sitting facilities will be available.

Mrs. Bernard Trowbridge has been named chairman of the Christmas dinner to be held at the Skytop Restaurant on Dec. 15 in lieu of the regular club meeting for that night. Final arrangements for this event will be announced.

Club Notices

Santa Maria
The Ladies Society of Santa Maria will meet tonight at 8 in St. Mary's hall, 200 North Street. Mrs. Ann Mattia, chairman of the Christmas party, will give her report. All members are urged to attend. Serving on the refreshment committee will be Mrs. Helen Hummel and her assistants.

Civil Air Patrol

Kingston Composite Squadron, Civil Air Patrol, will hold its regular meeting on Wednesday, 7:30 p. m. in the S/Sgt. Robert H. Dietz USAR Center on Flatbush Avenue. Major Sidney Lane, Squadron Commander, urges all senior and cadet personnel to attend.

Excelsior Hose

The Ladies Auxiliary to Excelsior Hose No. 4 will hold a regular meeting Thursday at the firehouse on Hurley Avenue. There will be a covered dish supper and gift exchange. Election of officers. Meeting will start at 8 p. m.

Kingston Chapter 155

Regular meeting of Kingston Chapter 155, Order of the Eastern Star, will be held on Friday at Masonic Temple. Films of meetings held throughout the year will be shown. All Stars and Master Masons are cordially invited to attend. Refreshments will be served after the meeting.

Ulster Hose Company

The Ladies Auxiliary to Ulster Hose Company No. 5 will have a Christmas party on Thursday, Dec. 8 at 7 p. m. at the Oak Grove Motel. The regular monthly business meeting and election of officers will follow the party. Members are requested to contact Mrs. Stanley Van Kleek for reservations and are also requested to bring a gift to exchange.

Legion Auxiliary

The regular meeting of the Junior Unit of the American Legion Auxiliary will be held December 5 at 6:30 p. m. at 232 West Chester Street. All girls from five through 15 are invited.

Hurley Church Bazaar Is Set for Saturday

The third annual Christmas bazaar sponsored by the Guild for Christian Service, Reformed Church of Hurley on Route 209, will be held in the auditorium of the new education building, Saturday from 10:30 a. m. to 6 p. m.

Mrs. Allan Dumas and Mrs. Theodore Beland, chairmen of the Christmas bazaar, are working with the following committee members in preparing booths and special attractions for the public's pleasure.

Mrs. Jack Gill, in charge of bazaar decorations, plans an attractive seasonal motif.

Mrs. Holcomb Tomson and Mrs. Clarence Jansen are in charge of the booth featuring Christmas holiday decorations. They have a large committee working with them in the preparation of items needed for the home holiday decor.

There will be Grandma's Garret, with its collection of odd dishes, jewelry, used toys, and perhaps things to treasure because of age, is organized under the chairmanship of Mrs. John Gill.

Mrs. Edward Harms and Mrs. Lester Staggs will display aprons for every need at their apron booth.

The Green Thumb Bar, specializing in flower arrangements, terrariums, plants, and Christmas season ideas is headed by Mrs. George Brown, Mrs. Frank Race, and Mrs. Severyn Hasbrouck. A committee of workers have gathered native materials for much of the display.

Mrs. Peter Palen and Mrs. Roger Vogt, chairmen of the Kiddie Korner, are offering infants wear, knitted articles, toys and books and games.

Fun for the children will be provided by Mrs. Wilbur Peters at Santa's Chimney.

The always useful and popular items on the Christmas wrappings and napkins booth, sponsored by the Bereans, is headed by Mrs. Alton Dietz.

Home-baked goods, breads, cakes, cookies, pies and candies are all to be found at the Sugar and Spice Booth. Mrs. Ernest Myer and Mrs. William Hutton are chairmen.

A special booth for church moments, including the new 1961 community birthday and anniversary calendar, will be presided over by Mrs. Vernon Goetcheus, Mrs. Harry Nelson and Mrs. Arthur Harder. They will have items such as plates, stationery, cards, card trays and ceramic Dutch shoes.

Mrs. Edmund Bower and Mrs. Harold Schadevald, at the Board of Missions Booth, will feature articles from the American Indian Mission, Mesalero, New Mexico.

From 2-4 p. m., children may have a polaroid picture taken with Santa himself. Arrangements may be made for group pictures, too. Mrs. LeRoy Vogt is chairman of children's pictures with Santa.

The special shoppers luncheon and snack service, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Duane Forman and Mrs. Otis Tracy, is a particularly welcomed part of the bazaar day. The public is invited to enjoy this convenient way to take care of mid-day lunch or to stop for refreshments after a shopping tour of the booths.

AN UNWELCOMED THANK-YOU NOTE

Question: Two weeks ago my mother-in-law died. My brother-in-law (who is a bachelor and resided with his mother) asked me if I would please send out thank-you notes to all those who sent Mass cards and flowers. I gladly did so. Among those who sent Mass cards was my mother-in-law's sister. I sent her a note of thanks. Now the family is in an uproar. She sent the note back with a letter excusing my so-called ignorance. I didn't realize I had committed a social blunder. I was under the impression that only the surviving children and their families or any other relatives who lived with the deceased should not receive notes of thanks. Will you please tell me if I was wrong?

Answer: It was unnecessary to have written a thank-you note to your mother-in-law's sister, and it would have been in better taste not to have done so, but you certainly made no blunder deserving all the fuss that was made over it.

A House Guest at Thirteen

Question: My daughter has just turned thirteen. She has been asked to a school dance by the brother of one of her close girl friends. She is to have dinner and stay overnight at the home of the boy's parents. Would you be so kind as to advise me if it is necessary that she bring a gift to her hostess?

Answer: There is no necessity for your daughter to bring a gift, but she must write her hostess a bread-and-butter letter when she returns home.

Shower Gifts From Bride's Friends

Question: If one does not attend a bridal shower to which one has been invited, is it necessary to send a gift anyway? This has been a source of argument among some friends and we would like you to settle it.

Answer: Since showers are supposed to be limited to the bride's best friends, those who cannot go to the shower, usually send presents. If, however, the bride-to-be is not a close friend, there is no obligation to send a present if unable to accept the invitation.

Ruth Millett
Living Pattern Cut First;
Income Tailored to Fit

Wives of New York City policemen recently threatened to march on City Hall to protest the ban on outside jobs for their husbands.

Wives demanding the right for their husbands to hold down two jobs may be something new. But it's not surprising.

Today wives are the ones who cut a family's living pattern. They are the ones who decide just how much take-home pay papa has to earn in order for the family to live according to the pattern mama has cut.

When papa's job doesn't pay enough, then mama either urges him to change jobs, ask for a raise, get a second job with a second pay check—or else she goes to work herself to supplement the family income.

The new idea is to tailor the income to fit the living standard mom has decided on. That has replaced the old-fashioned idea that a family should cut its pattern of living according to the size of the bread winner's pay check.

So for wiver to fight for a husband's right to hold down two jobs is just a logical outcome of the new attitude toward family finances. The fact that wives might consider it their duty to go to bat for their husband's right to earn two pay checks instead of seeing to it that the family can live on one isn't surprising.

That's all part of the new conception of good management on the housewife's part. Her job no longer is figuring out how to live on one pay check but how to see to it that the family has more than one, if she decides one isn't sufficient.

A happy husband is a happier marriage. Order your copy of Ruth Millett's new booklet, "How to Have a Happy Husband." Just send 25 cents to Ruth Millett Reader Service, in care of The Kingston Daily Freeman, P. O. Box 489, Dept. A, Radio City Station, New York 19, N. Y.

For Foster Care

Ladies of Paltz
VFW Are Seeking
Yule Cheer Funds

A drive for gifts and funds to provide Christmas cheer for children in foster care in Ulster County has been launched by the ladies auxiliary of Brannen van den Berg Post No. 8645, Veterans of Foreign Wars, New Paltz.

Some 300 children are in foster care, placed by the Ulster County Department of Public Welfare. A spokesman said today that "generous families volunteer their love, guidance and homes to children from infancy through high school age. However, help is sometimes needed in providing that cherished 'something' for under the Christmas tree."

It is asked that "when you start budgeting and buying for your children, grandchildren, nieces and nephews the committee would appreciate your adding one more present to your list. The Ulster County Child Welfare Division, 240 Fair Street, Kingston, will gladly accept new items for the children."

The auxiliary will sponsor a tea on Saturday, Dec. 10, from 1 to 5 p. m. at the home of Mrs. Richard Lent, New Paltz. All who have contributed funds or gifts are cordially invited to attend. This will also provide the opportunity for each person to see some of the gifts that have been given and perhaps to deliver his gift.

Those who wish to donate funds are encouraged to do so at an early date. Checks made out to the Christmas Fund for Foster Children may be sent to Mrs. Charles H. Staats, 15 Wurts Avenue, New Paltz.

AMA Considers Boost in Dues

WASHINGTON (AP) — The American Medical Association is considering a dues increase that would add from $1.5 million to $3.5 million a year to its revenues.

The added money would go to increase activities of the association—not to battle expected efforts in Congress to finance medical care for the aged under the Social Security System, a spokesman said.

The AMA strongly opposes that health care plan, supported by President-elect John F. Kennedy, and claimed a share of credit for its defeat this year.

The AMA Board of Trustees disclosed the dues increase proposal Monday and said it would not be acted upon until next June. At that time the AMA House of Delegates is expected to vote on increasing dues from $25 to somewhere between $35 and $50 a year. The association has 143,000 members.

John Duffner Selected to All-DUSO First Team Berth

Sickler, Fiore Awarded Spots On Second Team

Steve Albrecht Gets Laurels as Circuit's 'Player of Year'

By ED PALLADINO
Freeman Sports Staff

John Duffner, Kingston High's sturdy tackle, was selected to the All-DUSO League's first team yesterday at a meeting of the sportswriters and broadcasters at the Hotel Kirkland. The 195 pound junior was the unanimous choice of these present and was the only KHS player to earn a first team berth.

JOHN DUFFNER

Winter Cagers Meet Thursday For Final Plans

YMCA winter basketball league plans a final organizational meeting Thursday at 8:30 p. m. at the YMCA. League officers are: Andy Juhl, president; Lafayette Holstein, vice president; and George Uhl, treasurer. All Clubs wishing to compete in the league should be ready to start play on Dec. 6.

Teams must hand in temporary rosters, with a minimum of eight players, at Thursday's meeting. Clubs must also be uniformed by the third game when permanent rosters are due. Games will be played on Tuesday, Wednesday and Saturday nights.

Information pertaining to team and individual participation may be had by contacting Dick Case, physical director. There is a limited number of player vacancies which can be filled.

Some Close Contests

Balloting for most of the selections was unanimous but there were a few close contests. Wright nosed out Mike Dennis of Poughkeepsie by one vote for the first string guard position and Rodiek won by three votes over Joe Crevino of Poughkeepsie for the center slot. Sickler just missed a first team berth, losing to Coleman by a single vote.

Albrecht was a unanimous choice as the "Player of the Year." The "lanky end" was the best pass catcher in the circuit and one of the fine defensive performers for Coach Sam J. Kallach. He was far and away, the top performer in the area.

Ruckdeschell was also a good end and went both ways for the Goldbacks. He starred on Thanksgiving Day against Kingston. Only a junior, he'll be back again next season.

Pleasant Surprise

Duffner was a pleasant surprise this season for Coach Bill Burke at Kingston. Big and strong, John was always ready to mix it up with the opposition and he made a good share of the club's tackles. Cushing was one of Middletown's best performers and was a big reason why the Middies were so tough to score on.

Rodiek, son of the Middletown baseball coach, was tabbed by Coach John Whitehead as the best linebacker in the league. At 1-11 and 170 pounds, Rodiek used his weight to good advantage.

The backfield is explosive. Gordon played both quarterback and halfback for Poughkeepsie. He's a triple threat and was the best passer and runner for Coach Kallach's pennant winners. Streeter and Smith could cut the corners with the best of them and Coleman was the best passer in the conference as well as being an outstanding defensive performer.

The second team includes Gibby Romaine of Port Jervis and Carl Cross of Middletown at the ends; John Ek of Poughkeepsie at tackle; Dennis and Gus Schroeder of Poughkeepsie at guards and Crevino of Poughkeepsie at center.

Joining Sickler and Fiore in the backfield are Dennis Hayden of Newburgh and Poughkeepsie's Arnie Levine.

Of the 22 players selected, only Gordon and Rodiek made all-star teams last season. Gordon was a first team performer and Rodiek was selected on the second eleven.

Baylor Gets 42 As Lakers Win

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Los Angeles Lakers take on the Philadelphia Warriors in the third game of their cross-country basketball series tonight with renewed confidence.

The teams meet for the third night in succession in the opener of an NBA doubleheader in New York. They wound up their two-game set in Los Angeles Monday night with the Lakers downing the Warriors 137-112. No other games were scheduled.

Archie Moore Wins Over Bud Turman

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Old Archie Moore, currently on the NBA blacklist for failure to defend his title's light heavyweight championship in the required time, decisively young Buddy Turman Monday night then announced he probably would be back soon.

Moore, who admits to 43, wants to give Donnie Fleeman, the Texas light heavyweight champion, a chance.

Fleeman appeared on the same card and beat George (Scrap-Iron) Johnson of Oklahoma City on a technical knockout in the seventh round.

Fleeman had said he thought Turman, 26, Tyler, Tex., heavyweight, would take out Archie.

But Turman, though he went the 10-round distance and never was badly hurt by the hard-punching Moore, was voted down by both judges and the referee. Referee Jack Woodruff scored it 99-94. Judge Bill Shaw 98-94 and Judge Lonnie Hudkins 100-96.

Moore weighed 189, Turman 186.

Has Passing Lead

DALLAS (AP) — Jack Kemp, ace of the Los Angeles attack, has remained the lead in American Football League passing.

Kemp was the first man to top the AFL, that 12 weeks ago. He took over the lead from Frank Tripucka of Denver with 44 efficiency points to 43½ for Butch Songin of Boston and 42½ for Tripucka.

Kemp has thrown 320 passes and completed 163 for 2,285 yards and 11 touchdowns.

For Second Time

John Whitehead Picked As 'Coach of the Year'

The man who turned Middletown into a football contender after many seasons in the doldrums was selected as the DUSO league's "Coach of the Year" for the second straight season. He's John Whitehead who completed his third year as Middle coach with a 6-1-1 mark, the best at the school since 1935.

Whitehead nosed out the veteran Sam J. Kallach of Poughkeepsie on the second ballot. Those two and Newburgh's Rip Fornal were first ballot nominees. On the first ballot, Whitehead and Kallach received five votes each and Fornal had one.

The second ballot was also a squeaker with Whitehead edging out the veteran PHS coach, 6-5. Kallach also ran a close second to Whitehead in the voting last year.

Middletown won three and lost only to Poughkeepsie in DUSO competition and tied one game

Pennsylvania Players Top All-East Team

Bellino, Davis, Terhes, Rozycki In the Backfield

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

The 1960 All-East football team confirms a belief that coaches have cherished for many years—to find good football players, you search Pennsylvania.

Of the top 11 players selected on the recommendations of the Associated Press regional boards, five come from the Keystone State. Illinois supplied two and Oregon, New Jersey, Massachusetts and New York one each.

Headline performers are a pair of almost unstoppable backs, Joe Bellino of Navy and Ernie Davis of Syracuse, a superb end, Pitt's big Mike Ditka, and Paul Terhes of Bucknell, a small college quarterback who made the big boys sit up and take notice.

Bellino, the heavy-legged, elusive Navy halfback, has had top billing all season and never failed to live up to it. Not particularly fast, he can cut with amazing agility and unfailing judgment and when he's hemmed in, he usually manages to bowl over a couple of would-be tacklers before he is hauled down.

One observer commented: "He has to be hit by four tacklers before he even slows down."

The Only Junior

Davis, a jetstream-running 205-pounder, the only junior on the All-East team—averaged over 10 yards a carry for a team that lost two games and had trouble winning several others.

Terhes, a 195-pound Bucknell senior from Milford Park, a suburb of Philadelphia, is a passer eagerly sought by professional clubs. He was a standout in every game this year—against major college opposition as well as minor.

In nine games, playing only part time in several of them, Terhes completed 87 of 155 passes for a 56.1 percentage and gained 981 yards by air. He also picked up 141 running yards.

Completing the All-East backfield is Ivy Leaguer Al Rozycki of Dartmouth, a 170-pound speedster who excels at pass receiving and is a keen defensive player.

Pitt's Ditka, a 6-foot-3, 215-pounder, had some strong competition for the No. 1 end position from Fred Mautino of Syracuse, a 1959 All-America end.

Close Competition

Competition was close for most of the line positions. Ben Balme, the guard who came back from a year of ineligibility and anchored the line that kept Yale undefeated, was a standout at his position. Teammate Mike Pyle, switched

Rocca, Sammartino and Ricki Slated on Dec. 7 Mat Program

Miguel Perez Is Also on Card

Is Argentine Rocca the most agile wrestler in the world? Is Bruno Sammartino destined to become the newest glamor boy of the wrestling crowd? And is Ricki Starr the most entertaining grappler in the business?

These questions should be answered to the satisfaction of the most avid wrestling fans Wednesday, Dec. 7, when Promoter Ed Ceccolini presents another all-star wrestling show at the municipal auditorium, five star bouts in all.

The dream tag-team combination of Rocca and Sammartino goes against the roughhouse pair of Prof. Jerry Graham and Red Grupe, in a best of three falls feature.

Another tag team, 3-falls match, sends the highly popular Bavarian Boys against The Rebels, who are Channel 5 favorites and fast becoming one of the best liked teams in the business.

Backing up the two features are three, 30-minute time limit contests featuring six popular performers, including Ricki Starr, the ballet master who always steals the show whether he is headlining or in the supporting cast.

Starr is matched against a highly colorful and rampaging newcomer by the unique name of Haystack Muldoon in the top 30-minute bout.

Miguel Perez, who helped Rocca fill Madison Square Garden on many occasions, meets Pat Kelly in another bout, and Luther Lindsey and Tony Marino open the show at 8:45 p. m.

Baylor Leading NBA in Scoring

NEW YORK (AP)—Elgin Baylor of the Los Angeles Lakers played six games during the past week and took the scoring lead in the National Basketball Association. Philadelphia's Wilt Chamberlain, last weeks leader, played only three games.

Baylor tallied 203 points for a total of 716, compared with 670 for Chamberlain. However, Chamberlain boosted his per game average to 37.2 to wrest this department from Baylor, who has a 35.8 average.

Taylor Is Selected Top Player in AFL

DALLAS (AP)—Lionel Taylor the Denver wingman who gains more yards from his position than do most of the backs, today was named American Football League player of the week on offense.

Taylor, who played his college football at New Mexico Highlands, caught nine passes for 199 yards

Seniors Al Giannotti and Hank Smith were elected co-captains of the Saugerties High wrestling squad. The team held its first practice last week and 35 boys reported. Coach Bill Straub said he was pleased with the initial workout, stating the boys showed plenty of enthusiasm.

Giannotti, who wrestled at 165 pounds last season, weighs 171 at present and will probably wrestle in the 180 pound class. Smith will wrestle in the 154 pound division.

Bill Vickery at 145 pounds is back for his second season of competition. He may wrestle in the 154 pound class this time around.

Others out for second year are Carl Schmidt, 103 pounds, Anthony Ferrara and Bill Stamp. Several newcomers are also trying for starting berths.

The Sawyers will journey to Suffern today for a practice session with the Rockland County club, recognized as one of the finest wrestling squads in the state.

and scored three touchdowns as Denver staged a spectacular 31-point rally in the final 25 minutes to tie the Buffalo 38-38 Sunday.

He was voted the honor by a panel of AFL writers.

Warmath Is Proud Of Gophers

By Jim Klobuchar
MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—The popping of Murray Warmath's buttons—"I'm so proud of the team I could burst"—sounded loud and clear across the country from Buffalo, N.Y., to Minnesota today.

"The only thing wrong," shouted the big-shouldered Tennessee, "is that I've been bragging about Minnesota so much this last week I'm out of buttons."

A man with a reputation for keeping a tight grip on his emotions, Warmath broke out of character and whooped with exuberance when he learned his team had been crowned 1960's national college football champion by The Associated Press.

"I'm just so touched I can hardly express it," he said. "For such an honor to come to a bunch of guys who took so much grief in the past, and fought so hard to come back this year—why it's the greatest thing that I've experienced."

Engagements in the East prevented Warmath from being with his players at the moment of their supreme triumph.

At home, Warmath's Gophers took the news with as much relief as elation. Rose Bowl-bound, they had been afraid they would not wear the title of No. 1 when they headed West to play Washington.

Grid Bowl Teams Taking Rest Before Starting Practices

By MIKE RATHET

Associated Press Sports Writer

College football's bowl-bound eleven, deservedly resting on their laurels, today were concentrating on getting their wounded warriors into shape for the post-season classics before resuming full-scale workouts.

Duke's Atlantic Coast Conference champions, who meet Arkansas' Southwest Conference titlists in the Jan. 2 Cotton Bowl, were the lone exception as the head coaches of the 15 other teams headed for major bowls rewarded their players with 10-day vacations.

The Blue Devils (7-2) close out the regular season Saturday against UCLA at Los Angeles.

The Razorbacks (8-2), who'll resume practice a week from Friday, expect to have No. 1 fullback Joe Paul Alberty at full strength for the Cotton Bowl along with end Leslie Letsinger. Both have been hobbled most of the year.

Co-Big Ten champ Minnesota (9-1) which meets Washington (9-1) in the Rose Bowl, expects to hold no more than two or three formal practice sessions before leaving for California. Fullback Tom Robbins, the Gophers' kicking specialist hurt on the first play of the season, may be available for duty.

Henderson Resigns Secretarial Post

The 1961 championships of the Kingston Woman's Bowling Association will be held at the Sengi Bowlero on the weekends of January 28-29, and February 4-5, it was announced at last night's meeting of the KWBA executive board.

The association also accepted with regret the resignation of Ethel Henderson as secretary. Mrs. Henderson, one of the finest executives in KWBA history, told the board her resignation was prompted by the mounting pressure of personal business.

Mrs. Nell Glennon, KWBA president, then named Alicia Wrinn to fill the unexpired term of Mrs. Henderson.

Several tournament committees were announced by Mrs. Glennon, with Terry Beckert and Betty Saban in charge of publicity and promotion. Other committees are:

Management—Alicia Wrinn, Janet Moore, Roberta Gallagher and Evelyn Nitsch.

Schedule and Work—Flo Shaw, Chris Gallop, Esther Hendricks, Barbara Breitenstein, Mabel Chapman and Dolores Joyce.

Tournament Rules—Janet Moore, Betty Egan and Charlotte Malloy.

Tournament Prizes—Doris Meyers, Eunice Smiseth, Lee Madden, Ethel Howard and Madeline Madison.

Tournament Trophy—Roberta Gallagher, Betty Hyatt, Joan Dunn and Helen Grunenwald.

Scorekeepers—Sis Balash and Evelyn Gross.

Food Sale—Fran Carver, Hilli Roland and Marlene Carlson.

Reporting on the recent cocktail party at the Gov. Clinton, Mrs. Glennon said 29 of 31 leagues were represented, Betty Egan and Harriet Mulligan were named a committee to arrange for a bus to the state tournament at Niagara Falls when a Kingston Day will be staged.

Handicap Tourney

The 1961 tournament will be a classified handicap affair, with handicaps of 80 per cent off fixed averages, with no limit on handicap. Highest average as of January 1 will be the official tournament average.

New bowlers must have bowled 18 games, but entries with less than 18 games will be accepted only at the discretion of the tournament secretary. If 18 games have not been established, last year's average may be used when available. All averages must be established through leagues sanctioned by the association.

All events and individual awards will be based on net scores. In case of ties (gross pinage) place money shall be evenly divided. To determine the trophy winner, three games will be rolled by teams as soon as possible, with total pinage to determine the winner.

Cutoff figures in the various classifications follow:

Teams—Class A, 750 and up, scratch 850; Class B, 749 to 650, scratch 775; Class C, 649 to 551, scratch 675; Booster 550 and under, scratch 575. In the doubles event: Class A, 300 and up (380); Class B, 299 to 260 (320); Class C, 259 to 222 (300); Booster, 221 and under (240); singles—Class A, 150 and up (190); Class B, 149 to 130 (160); Class C, 129 to 111 (140); Booster, 110 and under, 120.

A bowler may enter as many team events as the number of leagues in which she bowls, either as a regular member or a substitute. In case of re-entry, no more than three of the same girls may be used. Bowlers must enter both singles and doubles, not just one or the other. The first team event score will count toward the all events.

Deadline for entries is January 10, 1961.

Minnesota Edges Mississippi Eleven For Top Spot in Final Football Poll

ON TARGET

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.

Associated Press Sports Writer

Minnesota, the comeback team of the year, won the national college football championship today in the final Associated Press poll of the 1960 season.

In a remarkably close vote, the Golden Gophers, last-place team of the Big Ten last year and co-champions this season, beat out Mississippi's Southeastern Conference champions for the title. Iowa, which battled Minnesota right down to the wire and drew even in the Big Ten race, was a very close third.

The difference on the ballots of 48 sports writers and broadcasters forming The Associated Press regional boards, was 1½ first place votes and 2½ points. One voter, unable to decide between the Big Ten co-champions, split his vote between Minnesota and Iowa.

That gave Minnesota 17½ first-place votes and a total of 433½ points on the basis of 10 for each first place, 9 for second, etc. down to one for 10th. Mississippi, concluding a highly successful season last Saturday with a 35-9 victory over Mississippi State, drew 16 votes for first place and 411 points. Iowa with 17½ firsts, had 407½ points.

Minnesota was declared national champion in the first Associated Press ranking poll in 1936, when the Gophers' string of 28 games without a loss was ended by a 6-0 defeat by Northwestern.

The final ranking of the leaders, with first place votes in parentheses:

1. Minnesota (17½)	433½
2. Mississippi (16)	411
3. Iowa (12½)	407½
4. Navy	262
5. Missouri	253
6. Washington (2)	250
7. Arkansas	212
8. Ohio State	138
9. Alabama	56
10. Duke	43

Others receiving votes were: Kansas 40, Baylor 35; Auburn 25, Yale 17, Michigan State 16, Penn State 15, New Mexico State 8, Florida 6, Syracuse 5, Purdue 4, each, Richmond 2, Tennessee, Michigan and Texas, 1 each.

U. S. Net Players Gain in Tourney

MELBOURNE, Australia (AP)

—Barry MacKay, Dayton, Ohio, and Earl Buchholz and Chuck McKinley of St. Louis gained the semifinals of the Victorian tennis championships today. They were joined by Mike Sangster, 20-year-old Briton.

McKinley won by default when Nicola Pietrangeli of Italy stormed off the court after taking the lead two sets to one. The Italian objected when Referee Al Cornish permitted McKinley to don spikes. McKinley was declared the winner, 9-11, 3-6, 6-0, default.

MacKay crushed Christian Kuhnke from West Germany, 8-6, 6-3, 6-6, 6-3 while Buchholz turned back Rod Laver, the Australian star, 6-4, 1-6, 7-5, 6-2. Sangster whipped Bob Howe of Australia 7-5, 6-1, 4-6, 11-13, 6-3.

Buchholz will meet McKinley and MacKay will face Sangster in the semifinal round.

Chicago — Chuck Taylor, 138½, Detroit stopped Harlow Irwin, 140½, Minneapolis, 2.

Sydney, Australia—Johnny Jarrett, 117½, Australia, stopped Alan Gibbards, 112½, Australia, 5.

Tokyo—Hisao Kobayashi, 128½, Japan, stopped Flash Panio, 130, Philippines, 6.

Long Beach, Calif. — Kid Rayo, 148, Nicaragua, outpointed Gaspar Ortego, 150, Mexico, 10.

SOME NEW POLICIES NOW SEEN FOR NATION'S COUNTRY CLUBS

By FRANK CORMIER

WASHINGTON (AP)—Many of the nation's country clubs will have to change their policies—and some may be forced out of business—because of a new federal tax ruling.

If you belong to a country club, the result may be an increase in the dues you pay. If you're not a club member, but belong to some other group that occasionally uses club facilities, you may find that your group no longer is welcome.

In essence, the Internal Revenue Service has held that a nonprofit social club may lose its exemption from federal taxes if a regular part of its revenue comes from the general public. However, the rule leaves a loophole and does not prohibit all outside income.

Quite a number of clubs have been able to increase their income by renting out their facilities for private banquets, wedding receptions, dances, meetings and golf tournaments. As a result, they have been able to avoid increasing membership dues.

Will IRS now frowning on this practice, many clubs will have to raise their dues, some to the point where they may have to shut down because members are unwilling to pay. Some other clubs may voluntarily surrender their tax exempt status in order to continue drawing substantial income from outside sources.

The IRS ruling was issued Oct. 10, but has received little public attention. In addition to tax-exempt country clubs, it affects all types of tax-exempt clubs "operated exclusively for pleasure, recreation and other non-profitable purposes." This includes yacht clubs, tennis clubs, in-town social clubs, and many others.

Two Kingstonians Attend Ski School

Vice President Radph Smith and Jim Luther of the Kingston Trail Sweepers Ski Club participated in the Alpine official's clinic and school at Casanova Sunday, Nov. 17.

The clinic, sponsored by the Central New York ski council, was conducted to train officials for ski events throughout the state and New England States during the coming winter. Lectures and actual slope activities included instructions in downhill racing, slalom and giant slalom.

Instructors were Ben Bucko, alpine chairman for the United States Eastern Amateur Ski

Ray's Seeking A Division Tie

Final action is scheduled tonight and Wednesday in the YMCA autumn basketball league, with Ray's Tackle Shop needing two wins to tie The Raiders, who have finished the A League season with an 8-2 record.

Ray's play Kaplan Bag tonight at 8 o'clock and the Raiders, if necessary, at 8 p.m. Wednesday.

The schedule:

Tuesday, Nov. 29

7 p.m.—American-Italian Rest vs. Texaco Chiefs.

8 p.m.—Ray's Tackle Shop vs. Kaplan Bag.

9 p.m.—Byrne Chevrolets vs. Woodstock.

Wednesday, Nov. 30

7 p.m.—Hub Delicatessen vs. Woodstock.

8 p.m.—Raiders vs. Ray's.

Byrne Chevrolets can clinch the B round robin playoff with a victory over Woodstock tonight.

McDonald, Bell Capture Titles At Yonkers Track

YONKERS, N.Y. (AP)—Morris McDonald and Hugh Bell clinched driving honors at Yonkers Raceway's 1960 meeting.

McDonald had the highest percentage of winners during Yonkers' 114-night, split session. He scored with 25 victories in 108 starts for a 23.1 per cent average, with Bell second at 21.7, winning 75 of 346.

Bell's 75 winners also topped that department. Jim Cruise was second with 43. The meeting ends Wednesday night.

Greentree Boy, driven by Cruise, came from last to first at the top of the stretch to win Monday night's feature $3,200 Chappaque Pace by half a length over Royal Melody. Time for the mile was 2:05.25.

The six-year-old son of Adios owned by Joseph Masello of Westbury, N.Y., returned $64. Lieut. Byrd finished third.

Doggone!

ST. LOUIS — (NEA) — A new record for motherhood has been set in the dog world.

Vicky, an English Setter, has had 109 puppies—and she's just a bit more than seven years old.

Vicky has had 11 litters, from four to 14 each. All of the puppies were sired by the same stud, Florendale's Lou's Poncho. Poncho has sired 59 litters totaling 510 pups.

Previous records for motherhood were held by two English Setters, Sally and Sally II. Sally whelped 99 puppies in 13 litters and Sally II had 101 puppies in 12.

Vicky whelped her litters at the Purina Dog Care Center, near St. Louis.

Chilled Buffalo Due for First Snow Tonight

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP) — The temperature climbed to 62 in Buffalo early today, a new record for the date.
But by late this morning, it had fallen 20 degrees.
By nightfall, it will drop another 10 degrees, the U. S. Weather Bureau reported.
By evening, said the forecasters, the season's first sizable snowfall will be here, born on gale force winds whistling down Lake Erie from the west.

Two Area People Hurt in Mishaps Monday, Today

A Saugerties woman reported injuries after an upturn accident this morning and a Stone Ridge man suffered a back injury in a three-car mishap Monday night at Broadway and O'Neil Street.

Lawn and shrubbery on the property of George Wilt, 280 Main Street were reported damaged and a car struck a corner of his house in the mishap this morning at Main Street and Mountain View Avenue.

Mrs. Lillian Dederick Marchant, 69, of 68 Main Street, Saugerties, driver of one of the cars, police said, reported injuries of the left side and a cut nose and was to be treated by a doctor.

The other car was owned and driven by Dr. Joseph Conrad, 31, of Robin Lane, Town of Ulster. The car driven by the Saugerties woman, police said, which had veered left onto the Main Street property, was towed from the scene. The mishap was reported at 8:05 a. m.

Alexander Embree, 65, of Stone Ridge, reported a back injury after the Monday night accident. He was to be treated by a doctor.

The other cars were driven by Robert Norton, 36, of Lake Katrine and Marion Kiernan, 34, of 37 Broadway. Police said the former had stopped for a traffic signal and the other two became involved behind him. Time of the mishap was fixed at 11:20 p. m.

Floor Vote Due Soon on Federal Milk Quota Plan

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—A proposal for production quotas under federal supervision is before the convention of the National Milk Producers Federation.

The proposal, debated before the resolutions committee Monday, was expected to come to a floor vote Wednesday.

Proponents said a quota system administered by a federal agency would eliminate surpluses and eventually enhance prices.
Russell S. Waltz, Seattle, Wash., who is retiring as federation president, told the 1,400 delegates at a banquet meeting Monday that that restricted marketing in hope of higher prices would weaken the producers' competitive position with regard to imitation dairy products.

Waltz suggested, instead, a control of imports of foreign dairy products and a moderate price policy by dairymen.
"Instead of giving away or selling our dairy surpluses for foreign currencies," Waltz said, "our government policy should be to encourage their commercial export. By subsidizing dairy exports so that they can be sold in foreign commerce at world prices, dollars will be saved at home and dollars will be brought back."
The convention ends Thursday.

PATTERN OF U.S. TRADE WITH EUROPE, 1950-59

BALANCE OF TRADE—Europe and the United States have always been good customers of each other. Newschart shows the business record for the last decade between this country and the two most important groups of European countries—the six members of the European Common Market (Euromark) and the seven which have joined into a Free Trade Assn. Imports from and investments in both areas increased steadily for eight years, as did U.S. exports to them. Then exports dipped while imports shot up sharply. This trend, which seems to be continuing, has caused concern in some quarters. Over the whole period of 10 years, U.S. exports to the 13 nations show a gain of only 51 per cent; on the other hand, imports climbed 260 per cent and investments 217 per cent.

Speicher and Martin Works In Albany's 100-Year Show

Eugene Speicher and Fletcher Martin are among Woodstock artists whose works will be included in a significant exhibition of American painting opening on December 14 at the Albany Institute of History and Art. The show is part of the International Business Machines public service program.

Entitled Small Paintings by Americans, 1850-1950, the exhibition contains 31 paintings, landscapes, portraits and still lifes by noted American artists.

Besides Martin and Speicher works, the impressive artists roster includes: Virginia Banks, Gifford Beal, Murray Bewley, Louis Rosa, George Brush, Emil Carlsen, A. De Vion, John Carroll, Jerry Farnsworth, William Glackens, William Hart, Childe Hassam, Winslow Homer, George Inness, Walt Kuhn, George Luks, Peppino Mangravite, Edward Moran, Anna Robertson (Grandmothers), Walter Murch, J. Francis Murphy, Jerome Myers, John Noble, Henry Varnum Poor, Andree Ruellan, William Smedley, Frederick Waugh, James Whistler.

John Carroll, it will be recalled, lived in Chatham until his death this summer. The Berkshire Museum has recently had a retrospective show of his work. The paintings by De Vion, Hart, Homer, Inness, Moran and Whistler are of the 19th century. While many of the other artists were born before 1900, their work was probably executed after that date.

Kramer Protests OCS Policy

The following is a copy of a letter Abe Kramer of Woodstock has directed to the president of the Ontario Board of Education and area newspapers for publication:

"As a parent and taxpayer in this district, I was appalled on reading in a local newspaper about the official 'disciplinary' policy just adopted by the Ontario Board of Education. Proper discipline is of course a necessity in any teaching situation. Whether or not you have sufficient reasons for spelling out a 'policy' in detail in a special memorandum at this point I am not in a position to know.

"But I do want to register the strongest possible objection and protest against the official authorization to teachers to inflict corporal punishment on students. I contend you have neither the legal nor moral right to sanction any such action. There is a great difference between deliberate corporal punishment and the necessity to 'restrain or correct' in the event of an extreme situation. For example, if a teacher is attacked by a student, with or without a weapon—as has happened occasionally in 'tough' schools—certainly that teacher has every right to defend himself, disarm or restrain the student by force. This is the reason for and the meaning of the statement you quote from Section 246, Penal Code. The teacher in such a case can't even be expected to wait for the 'presence of a fellow employee'—which implies, on the face of it, that any emergency situation is over and any physical violence done against a student is coldly deliberate.

"But suppose Section 246, Penal Code, can be judged applicable to the sanctioning of deliberate corporal punishment? I don't doubt you can find some authority who will okay it for you—does that make it a right and wise policy? Who will insure that all teachers at all times will use that license 'reasonably' and 'moderately' and 'only as a last resort'? When you leave a door open a little bit, it is not conceivable that at some time or other it will be opened wide, no matter what the rule? The authority to use physical violence is the easiest and the most likely one to be abused in any situation.

"Even assuming the best in this respect, is right or wrong judged by degree or by principle? Is it less wrong to steal a little than a lot? In any event is the threat of force the wisest and most effective basis for discipline in a school?

"It is a most disheartening thing when people elected in good faith by their fellow citizens to administer a school system, are apparently more concerned with technical 'justification' of a course of action than with its rightness!

"One more comment: Certain questions must now inevitably arise in the mind of every parent in the district: Has discipline broken down to such an extent in the past year as to make this 'memorandum' necessary now where it wasn't before? And if so, which came first, more overness on the part of the children, or less effectiveness on the part of the administration? "Since this is of public concern, I expect this letter to be read or called to the attention of every member of the Board and the District Superintendent, and to be made part of the public record in your minutes; and I shall release it to the local newspapers as an open letter; so that it shall not be able to be said by anyone that there was no protest on this outrageous policy. ... ABE KRAMER."

University Women Will Meet Tonight

The third meeting of the Woodstock members of the Kingston Branch of the American Association of University Women will be held Wednesday, Nov. 30, at the home of Miss B. Sturtevant Gardner, 210 Mead Mountain Road.

The subject for the night is Spanish-American Literature. Anyone interested is cordially invited to attend.

Marrone Seized By FBI, Suspect In Coast Kidnap

LOS ANGELES (AP)—FBI agents converged on a startled Frank Marrone at a Los Angeles intersection early today and arrested him in the kidnaping a week ago of wealthy sportsman Anthony Alessio.

The FBI said Marrone, 31, a convicted murderer with a long police record, was unarmed and offered no resistance. His first comment, agents re-ited, was: "I knew the FBI was smart, but I've never seen so many in one place."

The agents said Marrone—driving his own 1953 automobile—carried currency identified as part of the $200,000 ransom paid by the Alessio family to secure his release.

Alessio, 41, abducted from in front of his fashionable San Diego home last Tuesday, was found unharmed later in a San Diego motel. He is executive director of the Caliente race track in Baja California. The track is believed to be owned by the Alessio family.

A widespread search for Marrone commenced after the FBI arrested his wife, Selma, 25, and another couple in Hollywood last Friday. Agents recovered $77,900 of the ransom money at that time.

Don Keller, San Diego County district attorney, said he planned to file formal kidnap charges against the three. The other two are James R. Gorman, 29, identified as an escaped convict also wanted for a $13,000 Huntington Park, Calif., market robbery; and Gorman's wife, Ruby, 30.

The FBI, adhering to customary procedure, declined to say how agents happened to catch up with Marrone. Agents said he was carrying part of the ransom loot in $10, $20, $50 and $100 bills.

Soviet U.N. Aide In Chicago to Face Espionage

CHICAGO (AP)—A Russian United Nations employee arrived in Chicago today to face trial on federal espionage charges.

Igor Y. Melek and three unidentified companions landed at O'Hare International Airport shortly after 1 a. m. from New York. They declined any comment and immediately left the terminal.

Melek, free on $50,000 bond, is scheduled to report to the U. S. marshal's office today to be placed under custody awaiting arraignment.

Melek, 47, lost a bid for refuge from prosecution through diplomatic immunity Monday when a federal judge in New York ruled he was not eligible for that status.

Melek and Willie Hirsch, a German-born medical illustrator arrested with him, were ordered removed to Chicago to stand trial. Hirsch is still in custody in New York and no date has been set for his transfer to Chicago.

The two men were arrested by the FBI in New York Oct. 27 after they were indicted by a federal grand jury in Chicago on charges of seeking military maps and aerial photographs of the Chicago area.

Buffalo to Get Funds

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—The state will lend the Buffalo Municipal Housing Authority the proceeds from the sale of $26,750,000 in notes to finance low-income housing.

Arthur Levitt, state comptroller, announced on Monday the sale of the state housing-bond anticipation notes to a group of banks.

The non-callable notes, running from Thursday through April 14, 1961, bear interest at the rate of 1 1/2 per cent a year.

BROTHERS—President-elect John F. Kennedy stands with his brother, Robert F. Kennedy, during the latter's visit to the president-elect's home in Georgetown, District of Columbia, Nov. 28. It was their first meeting since Nov. 11. Robert, who played prominent role in his brother's election, said after the visit that the question of whether he will take a job with the new administration still is open. (AP Wirephoto)

New East-West Clash Looms on U.N. Finances

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—A new East-West clash was promised today as the United Nations turned to a $66-million question: Where is it going to get the $66 million to foot its Congo bill for the current year?

The 99-nation financial committee was slated to take up the issue in the wake of a warning from Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold that the 'whole Congo operation might have to be junked unless the General Assembly makes quick arrangements for members to pay up.

The Western nations are certain to blast the announcement by the Soviet bloc that it will not pay one cent of its share of the $66 million earmarked for the Congo project this year or the estimated $120 million needed for 1961. The nine-nation bloc's percentage of the bill for the two years comes to more than $30 million.

In a move to carry the United Nations through its current financial crisis, the United States is reported to have decided to pay nearly 50 per cent of the 1960 Congo cost.

Doctor's Advice New Baby Will Cut Down Mrs. JFK's Activities

WASHINGTON (AP)—Any plans Mrs. John F. Kennedy has for increasing social activity in the White House will have to be postponed for six months.

That advice from her doctor dashes some of the enthusiastic predictions that came only a week ago from Mrs. Kennedy's new social secretary.

Letitia Baldrige had reported Mrs. Kennedy would be making plenty of news and innovations in the White House starting about three months after the birth of her baby.

But the unexpectedly early arrival of John F. Kennedy Jr. last Friday changes the picture.

Dr. John W. Walsh, who brought baby John into the world four days ago, wants Mrs. Kennedy to take it easy for six months. He explained that means she'll have to "cut down—but not eliminate" some of the White House social activities.
